GERIATRIC INSTITUTE

The Center for Psychological Studies operates the Community Mental Health Center, which is a publicly funded mental health treatment center organized to provide excellent professional training to future psychologists within a broad-based clinical service delivery system. The center's trifold mission of research, training, and service is accomplished cooperatively through the collaborative effort of the academic faculty at the University and through its contracts with state and local governments that purchase community mental health services for the residents of Broward County. The resulting environment is unique in that it offers a community mental health treatment program that is managed by professional psychologists, all of whom have faculty status in the School of Psychology.

The Geriatric Institute, a component of the Nova Community Mental Health Center, provides comprehensive mental health services to older adults through its programs:

Residential and Day Treatment Facilities. This component of the state-wide Geriatric Residential Treatment System is funded in part by the state Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services (HRS) and the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), as well as local funds. It provides for a structured environment for Broward County residents, age 55 and older, who have a history of mental illness.

A 62-bed Residential Treatment Facility is located in Lauderhill and offers transitional treatment for individuals progressing toward independent living in a community setting. Day Treatment centers in Lauderdale Lakes and Hollywood provide individual and group psychotherapy, as well as social rehabilitation and psychoeducational groups.

Dual Diagnosis Program. Substance abuse counseling is available for individuals suffering from addiction disorders in addition to their mental illness.

Each program offered by the Geriatric Institute is based on a multidisciplinary approach to treatment. Under the direction of a licensed Clinical Psychologist, the Treatment Team consists of counselors, student therapists, nurses, and the staff psychiatrist and is led by a Treatment Specialist. In this consumer-oriented treatment system, each individual's plan for treatment is unique and formulated in collaboration with the individual.

FEE FOR SERVICES

Private insurance, as well as Medicare and Medicaid, is accepted when applicable. A formula-based schedule of fees is also available.

Services are offered to individuals regardless of race, creed, color, national or ethnic origin, or ability to pay.
