

1-1-2005

Acknowledgements

Liz Harbaugh
Nova Southeastern University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://nsuworks.nova.edu/digressions>

Recommended Citation

Harbaugh, Liz (2005) "Acknowledgements," Digressions Literary Magazine: Vol. 2 , Article 2.
Available at: <https://nsuworks.nova.edu/digressions/vol2/iss1/2>

This Acknowledgements is brought to you for free and open access by the CAHSS Journals at NSUWorks. It has been accepted for inclusion in Digressions Literary Magazine by an authorized editor of NSUWorks. For more information, please contact nsuworks@nova.edu.

Acknowledgments

The composition of this publication could never have been completed without the following people, all of whom are owed immense gratitude:

The authors and artists whose work comprises this publication: I thank you for the gift of your creativity.

Naima Jinnah, Neil Mayer, Cheyenne Poskey, Davia McDonald, and Jennifer Paoli, who donated their time and effort in the creation of this magazine: many thanks for your support and dedication.

To Stephen Deck and Jennifer Keating, who led their respective staff in selecting the submissions most reflective of the mission of this publication: much appreciation for your reflection and devotion.

To Amanda Brown, who led her staff in the creation of a beautiful publication, and managed not to lose her temper (even once!) with her computer illiterate editor: awe and admiration for your creativity and patience.

To Alaina Siminovsky, who was not only my right hand, but often my entire arm and much of my head: appreciation and indebtedness for your organization, advice, and guidance.

To Dr. Suzanne Ferriss, Dr. Marlisa Santos, and Dr. Lynn Wolf, who advised, supported, and counseled a harried editor: this undertaking is impossible without you, and all of your efforts are prized.

Finally, to Dr. Ben Mulvey, who deserves the utmost praise for seeing the need for this publication and for supporting the efforts of his faculty members and students. Thanks to your presence, this division has provided a vehicle of creativity for all of our students.

Liz Harbaugh
Editor-In-Chief