TREASURES AND DREAMS
We were fortunate to have author Elise Broach visit our school this year. Ms. Broach has published three novels and five picture books for children, with two more coming soon. During her presentations to our students and teachers, Ms. Broach talked about her life, in particular her early years, and how she became a writer. She said she was always a storyteller, from the time she learned to talk. She showed us a picture of the first book she wrote, at age six. The book had a picture of a large brown dog on the cover. Then she showed her first book that was published—with a large brown dog on the cover. It took many years, but that seed of an idea from her sixth year, became her first published book.

How inspiring this was for our young writers! Treasures and Dreams has always been a vehicle for showcasing our students' best writing. Perhaps one day something published here will be shown by one of our students as their first published piece! To the students I suggest: Keep up with your journals and writer's notebooks this summer. You never know what may happen during your lifetime as a writer.

In response to our previous issue, I received a congratulatory email from Dr. Chermak, our headmaster. Below you will find his ode to Treasures and Dreams. I think it can safely be said that he leads by example!

Have a wonderful summer and happy reading.

Sincerely,
Nancy Cantor, editor

Day at the Beach

One time I went to the beach near Rio Vista in Fort Lauderdale. I went in the water and I thought I saw a shark. It kind of looked like humongous black fish. It turned out to be three tarpons swimming together. I got out, but then I was brave and went back in.

Hudson Ferris Grade 1

The Fish

I’m going, I’m really, really going ... to the coral ridge reef. When we arrived I ran up the steps and onto the beach. There were huge dull gray rocks shaped like half ovals. Fish like little rainbows explored the rocks. I ambled closer so I could get a long look. Their real colors danced around the rocks - blue, yellow, orange, and all different colors. I put my hands into the cracks filled with water. A rainbow fish swam into a hole in a rock - maybe to find food, I imagined! I named her Rose. This was one of the most perfect beach days ever!!!

Paige Gillon Grade 2

Beach

The beach is a peaceful place to be. I hear the waves hitting the shore. You can see the color change as you look out further. If you look up at the clouds they look like cotton balls. You can also see the sky’s reflection in the water. If you are feeling sad, the beach is a lovely place to go.

Persona

I am wrapped up tight in a cocoon,
like a blanket on a cold winter night.
I am twisting and turning waiting to pop out into a butterfly, like a kernel into popcorn.
Finally, I break out. At last, I am free.
I can swoop through the air and leave this cage.
I am set free.
I can fly away, I can weave with the wind and do as I please.
I can lie on a leaf on a warm summer day.
I have wings with spots as yellow as the sun
and my wings are blue as a blueberry’s.
I move with the wind,
I am a butterfly.....

It sticks to the web, as the web waves something. Whoosh! A bug crashes in the sticky web. The spider charges at the bug. It must be starving from waiting. There are twelve other bugs also stuck to the sticky web. Whoosh! Another bug crashes in the stringy web. Wow! There are so many bugs that the spider has to eat. I think he should stay in that spot because there will be lots of bugs.

They look pitch black like the secret night. They soar gracefully through the white and blue sky covered with puffy clouds. They chirp so loud that my ears pop. You can hear it from a mile away. They have eyesight as stern as a hawk. They spread their wings as long as a Bald Eagle. They flutter and frolic quickly through the humid air, as they disappear into the sky.

Cooking With My Grandma
Poof, poof, yuck! Flour just got in my eye. I am at my grandmother’s making a cake with my brother Michael. It is fantastic! We all put on aprons and mitts, and then we get busy baking the cake. I am so excited. Now we are going to bake the cake- amazing! The first thing we need to do is get all the kitchen tools. I grab the salt, water, and butter. I slide the butter all over the pan to get it slippery. We don’t want the dough to get stuck to the pan. My brother and I take turns mixing. The cake in the oven smells like a flood of chocolate filling the room.

I played the best game ever. I caught the pass and ran as fast as a car going 100 miles per hour. I jumped into the end zone like a bird diving into the water. Touchdown! A Day with Blair Wiggins

If I could spend the day with anyone it would be Blair Wiggins. Blair Wiggins is a professional fisherman on a TV show called Addictive Fishing. Blair Wiggins is so talented because on his TV shows he catches so many fish. Blair Wiggins is also awesome and fun because he makes the show really interesting. I chose Blair Wiggins because he adores fishing as much as I do. In the morning, we would go fishing on a boat in the Bahamas and catch snapper and tuna. Then in the afternoon we would go to the best beach in the Bahamas. To finish the day off, we would go night fishing, and catch Mako sharks and maybe catch a few tuna.

Snow Tubing

The chilly air feels odd because I am from Florida and we do not have winter. I’m walking up the snowy line. I feel energized. Now, I am riding up a conveyor belt. Plop! I sit in the tube. Push ... and gravity takes me over. I’m spinning as fast as lightning. Everything looks like messy blobs. All around me the mountain boulders are grey and white. They look like very big spikes. It feels like the tube is growing legs and running down the hill. Spinning, slipping and sliding is fun until a huge pile of snow falls on me. When I get to the bottom of the hill I ask my mom and dad, “Can we do it again and again and again?”

Swoosh! Somebody flew past me. One of the biggest lakes in Salt Lake City was frozen solid at the bottom of the mountain. I was getting my picture taken before gliding down the mountain. The ski slope was a double blue. Even though it was hard, I wasn’t nervous. A chilly wind was freezing my nose. The snowflakes were whispering in my ear. “Go faster!” they said, and I did go faster. That was the best ski trip I ever had!

The Tree of Peace

The tree I watch, the tree I see, the tree is peaceful and it sees me. It stands in the bright boiling sun proud and tall. I think it's the best tree of them all. I grin at its different shades of green and it grins at me. The leaves fly in the wind and sound like a dancing maraca. I have to say that the tree is a trooper in a way. It's the tree of peace. I think its bumpy brown base is beautiful. That tree of peace will always be in my heart.

This weekend I went to the beach and went kayaking for the first time with my dad and my sister. I felt like I stepped into grassy water when I went into the water. The first time I tried to kayak I got to paddle. It was so difficult to try paddling. I saw dolphins jumping very high and they were so cute. I also saw jellyfish and stingrays. When I was in the kayak I almost tipped it over. It was a yellow kayak and it was very big. I was very scared on it. My sister and I loved it! It was so sunny and there were no clouds in the sky. The sky was very blue.

My Jamaican Style Eggs Benedict

Everyone has a favorite breakfast. It’s the most important meal of the day, might as well enjoy it. This is a dish you should really be talking about—the real Jamaican style eggs Benedict made at my place every weekend. First you have to make that flaky, buttery, biscuit from scratch from the freshest ingredients you can imagine. Then we move on to the thick and creamy hollandaise sauce which just complements every single delicious element perfectly.
Then, we bring out the big guns—the inch thick slab of pork belly. Just listening to that hunk of meat in the fry pan is like a culinary symphony. But wait we’re not finished yet! Who needs a regular egg when you can have fresh, delicious, raw quail egg shooters. They’re so fresh that they just slide to the back of your throat. Well that’s all I’ve got to say about my little piece of Jamaican paradise.
