MEDIA INFORMATION

OVERVIEW

The Sports Information Department provides a variety of services to the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics and the news media. Sports Information duties include keeping accurate statistical data of each athletic event and providing publications for each team such as media guides, game programs, schedule posters, schedule cards and press releases. The department has won numerous awards for its media guides in recent years.

In addition, the Sports Information Department organizes game-day operations and provides information to the local and national news media and to student-athletes' hometown newspapers. A member of the NSU sports information staff will be present at all home games and will travel with NSU teams for road contests.

ATHLETICS WEB SITE

The Sports Information Department maintains, creates and manages all editorial, statistical and biographical content for the official NSU Athletics Web site. The NSU Athletics Web site can be accessed on the Internet at <http://nsuathletics.nova.edu>. The NSU Athletics Web site also provides cutting-edge multimedia features such as live audio broadcasts of select NSU athletic events and functions as well as live statistical information during select home games. OVERVIEW & HISTORY

1960s

- Originally named Nova University of Advanced Technology, the university was chartered by the state of Florida in 1964 as a graduate institution in the physical and social sciences.
- The land occupied by the university was previously a naval training airfield during World War II named Forman Field. After World War II, the federal government had promised the Forman family, from whom the land was purchased, that the land would only be used for educational purposes. This led the land to be used for the creation of the South Florida Education Center of which Nova Southeastern University is now a part.
- First class of 17 graduate students enrolled on Monday, September 25, 1967, on the main campus in Davie, Fla. They had been selected from 250 applicants from all over the country. They were all doctoral students and had been given free tuition, as well as stipends of up to $5,000 for living expenses. On top of that, it took 68 staff members, 17 faculty members and an annual budget of $1.7 million to run the university that year.

- On June 23, 1970, the board of trustees voted to enter into a federation with the New York Institute of Technology. Alexander Schure, president of NYIT, became chancellor of Nova University. Abraham S. Fischler became president. The university charter was amended and "of Advanced Technology" was dropped from its corporate name.
- In 1971, Nova University was accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS).
- In 1972, the university introduced its first off-campus course of study, in education.
- The school was renamed Nova University in 1974.
- On campus, undergraduate evening programs began for adults, while the law school was opened in 1974.
- In 1976, the university received a $16 million gift from the estate of Leo Goodwin Sr., and began extensive campus and program expansion. Shortly after this, NSU dissolved its relationship with NYIT and began to create a board of trustees filled by South Florida community leaders, putting the stewardship of Nova back in the hands of its own local board.

- The Nova University that emerged in 1985 was committed to incorporating new educational technologies, made possible by computers and telecommunications, into the teaching and learning process and into its delivery of education.
- In 1989, celebrating its 25th year, Nova University was enrolling more than 8,000 students and had nearly 25,000 graduates, with revenues of nearly $70 million.
- Over the next five years, three new buildings were constructed and a campus-wide beautification campaign added landscaping that greatly changed the look of the campus.

1990s

- In 1994, Nova University merged with Southeastern University of the Health Sciences to form Nova Southeastern University (NSU), adding the Colleges of Osteopathic Medicine, Pharmacy, Optometry and Allied Health to the university. The university continued its expansion of building projects and added new academic, clinical and community service programs.
- By 1999, at the 35th anniversary, the university was enjoying an era of sustained growth, facilitated by a healthy infusion of endowment funds and a nearly 1,000-student increase in enrollment between fall 1998 and fall 1999.
- NSU's enrollment had increased approximately 42 percent; full-time members of the faculty, staff and administration expanded to almost 2,600; and minority representation among faculty and staff members and students continued to expand.

2000s

- The William and Norma Horvitz Administration Building, a 62,000-square-foot structure that houses the office of the president and numerous other administration departments for the university was constructed.
- The Alvin Sherman Library, Research, and Information Technology Center was completed in 2001 and is the largest public library facility in the state of Florida.
- The Carl DeSantis Building, housing the H. Wayne Huizenga School of Business and Entrepreneurship, opened its doors in 2004. This $33-million building is a 261,000-square-foot, five-story facility, that is also home to the Graduate School of Computer and Information Sciences.
- The state-of-the-art, 366,000-square-foot University Center, which opened on August 24, 2006, features three NCAA competition courts in the main arena, as well as two intramural courts, group fitness and instruction rooms, cardio and weight training areas, squash courts, a rock climbing wall, and The Flight Deck.
- In addition, five residence halls on the main campus serve undergraduate, graduate, health professions, and law students, with a capacity for housing up to 720 students in approximately 207,000 square feet of living space. The Commons, a new, 525-bed residence hall, opened for the Fall 2007 semester.

GARY TUELL
HEAD COACH
FOURTH SEASON

TUELL

Gary Tuell enters his fourth season at the helm of the NSU basketball program. Under Tuell's direction, Nova Southeastern University has established their reputation as a solid NCAA Division II program on regional and national scales.

Under Tuell, the 2006-07 Sharks basketball team posted a 14-15 record, but the injury plagued season contained plenty of highlights and several glimpses of what "could have been" if the injuries never occurred. The Sharks played a non-conference schedule ranked number one in degree of difficulty by the NCAA. Showing that they were up to the challenge, NSU defeated three teams (Henderson State, Valdosta State, and Barry) who all advanced to the NCAA tournament.

Tuell guided the Sharks to a 17-11 record in 2005-06, a ten game improvement from the previous year. NSU rose from last in the conference pre-season standings to second in the final conference standings, with an 11-5 record.

Coach Tuell came to NSU on April 27, 2004 after spending seven years as head coach for the Augusta State University men's basketball program. During his tenure, Tuell transformed the Jaguars into perennial Peach Belt Conference contenders as Augusta State claimed five PBC North Division Titles, two Peach Belt Conference Tournament Championships and twice qualified for the NCAA Division II Tournament. Coach Tuell's teams averaged 18 wins per season and won 71 percent (72-30) of Peach Belt Conference games during Tuell's final six years at ASU. The Jags also reached the 20-win plateau twice and were 114-89, overall, under Tuell's direction.

The Peach Belt Conference is considered as one of the most challenging basketball conferences in the nation, and in 2004-05 it produced the NCAA Division II men's basketball national champion - Kennesaw State University.

Tuell has been lauded for his coaching excellence, having been named "Coach of the Year" twice by the PBC (1998-99, 2001-02) and Atlanta Tipoff Club (1998-99), as well as being named Naismith "Coach of the Year" (1998-99).

Tuell came to Augusta State after five seasons at St. Thomas University (Miami, Fla.), where the Bobcats captured three Florida Sun Conference championships, posted one second-place finish and went 88-76 overall. Tuell led St. Thomas to the NAIA Division II

National Tournament on two occasions (1993-94, 1996-97).

Tuell previously served as the head coach for one season at Milligan College in Tennessee and for four seasons at Cincinnati Christian. He recorded an 11-19 season at Milligan in 1985-86, while he went 89-29 at Cincinnati Christian, including seasons of 27-7, 27-3, and 25-6.

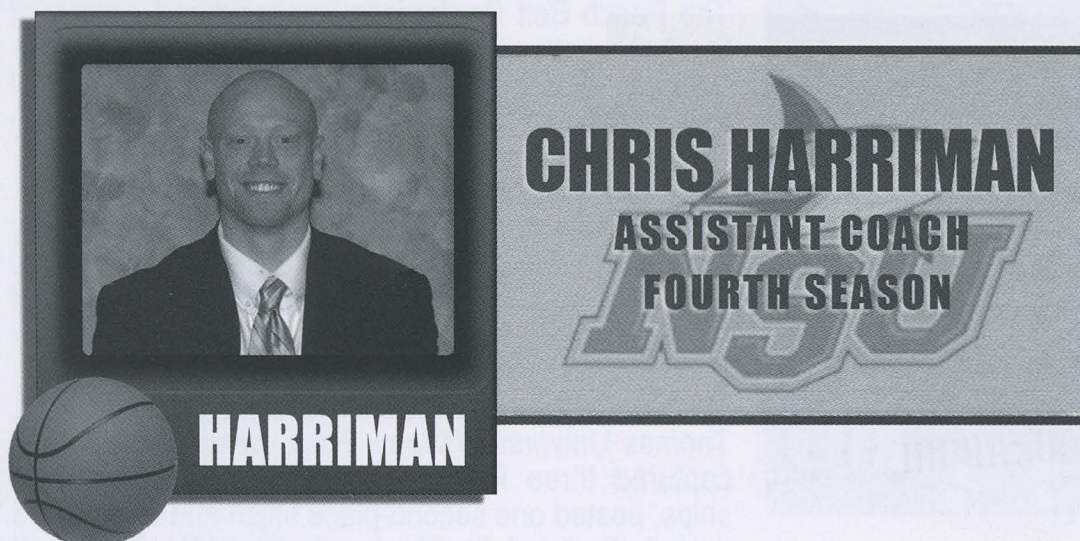

In Tuell's 18 seasons as a head coach, his teams have won six conference championships, four region championships, and six conference tournament championships while compiling a 9-6 record in six national tournament appearances.

A native of Louisville, Kentucky, Tuell received a bachelor of arts degree in English from the University of Louisville and served as an assistant freshman coach for the Cardinals from 1970-73. He was later a volunteer assistant coach at Louisville from 1982-85 and restricted earnings coach at the University of Miami from 1987-92.

Tuell also authored Above the Rim, a book detailing the history of Louisville basketball. The 352-page book sold over 10,000 copies.

Chris Harriman joined the NSU men's basketball coaching staff in August 2004 following a successful playing career both in the United States and in his homeland of Australia.

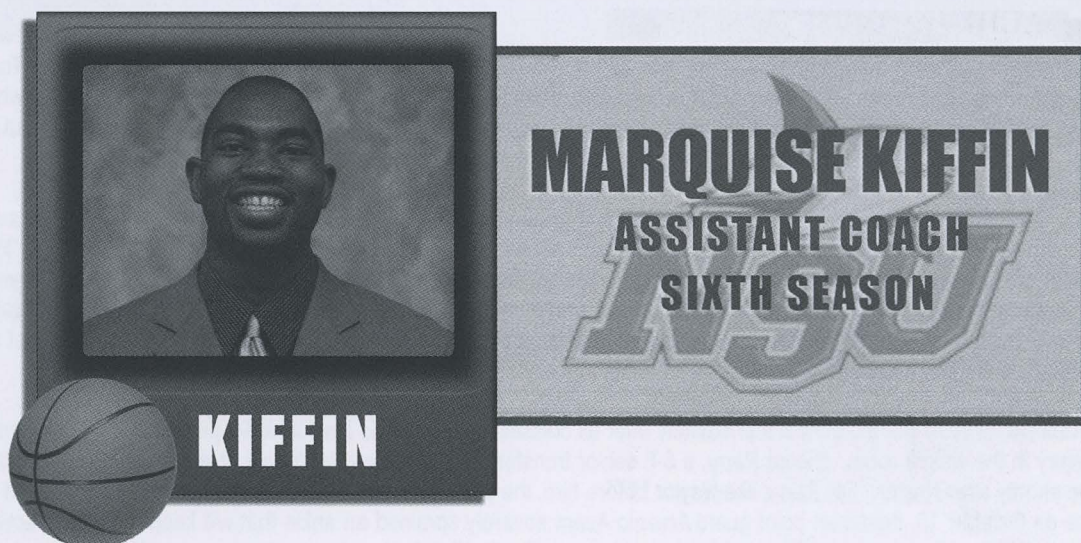

Harriman was a member of the National Basketball League's Sydney Kings in 1997 before coming to the United States and attending Augusta State University. Under the tutelage of now NSU head coach Gary Tuell, Harriman excelled with Augusta State, winning the Peach Belt Conference Championship in 1999 and 2000 and also attending the NCAA Championships in those same seasons.

His four-year career at Augusta State netted a number of awards, including conference player of the week. Harriman led the Peach Belt Conference in assists and steals during his junior and senior seasons, respectively. Harriman also was named team captain on the 2000-01 and 2001-02 teams.

Following his four-year career at Augusta State, Harriman returned home to Australia where he played for the National Basketball League's Hunter Pirates in 2003 and was the league runner-up for Rookie of the Year.

A native of Sydney, Australia, Harriman currently resides in Plantation with his wife Cheryl and his son Avery.

Marquise Kiffin joined the Sharks athletic staff as an assistant coach of the men's basketball team in August of 2002.

He joined the coaching ranks after a successful four-year playing career at NSU. Kiffin averaged 7.6 points, 3.2 rebounds and 1 steal per game. A durable player, Kiffin appeared in 98 games during his NSU career. He was a standout prep player at St. Thomas Aquinas High School, where he was named the team's Most Valuable Player during his senior year.

Kiffin holds a bachelor's degree in elementary education and a master's degree in business administration from NSU. He currently resides in Sunrise.

Traavis Chandler is a former four-year NSU men's basketball player. Chandler is entering his first season as an assistant coach for Tuell. Chandler graduated in 2006 from NSU with a degree in Sport and Wellness.

OUTLOOK

Even before the 2007-08 college basketball season tips off, fourth-year Nova Southeastern University coach Gary Tuell has an eerie feeling that he's been here before. "I feel like Bill Murray in the movie 'Groundhog Day.' No matter what day -- or season -- it is, everything is frighteningly familiar," says Tuell. "I'm beginning to wonder if we'll ever get out of this rut."

The "rut" Tuell refers to is one filled with injuries. In his first three years as NSU's head coach, Tuell had the luxury of suiting up all of his scholarship players for a game exactly zero times. "We don't have bad luck with injuries," he says. "We have a full-blown epidemic." In fact, in his tenure as the Sharks' head coach, Tuell has seen all of his scholarship players healthy and on the court together for a grand total of two practices in three-plus years. "Shocking," the NSU coach says of his team's misfortune. "We hoped and prayed that the bad luck was behind us, but this preseason has been just as devastating as the last three years."

The problems for NSU started almost immediately after all classes began. David Naylor, a 6-8 junior forward, suffered a back injury in the weight room. Dionte Perry, a 6-6 senior transfer from Division I Southeast Missouri State, went to the sideline shortly after Naylor. For Perry, like Naylor before him, the problem was the back. A few days before the start of practice on October 15, freshman point guard Arsenio Avant severely sprained an ankle that will keep him out of action for up to a month. "Eventually, we'll have Arsenio back," says Tuell. "But the jury is out on Naylor and Perry. They both have herniated discs in their backs, and David's is pinching against a nerve. It's very possible that neither of them will play this year."

Losing Naylor and Perry, says Tuell, would be similar to the Miami Heat playing without Shaquille O'Neal and Dwyane Wade. "If we're healthy, we are legitimate contenders," says NSU's coach. "By that I mean that we have a formidable combination of size, depth and talent. But everything begins with David and Dionte. They are very talented players. I can't imagine a Division II team in America where they would not start. In fact, they'd both start on a lot of Division I teams. Both of them play all three front line positions, both of them should be our leading scorers and rebounders and David is simply the best all-around talent I've coached on a Division II team. Unfortunately, he's never played a single Sunshine State Conference game when he's been healthy. That's sad, because I wish other people could see just how good he is when he's well."

If healthy, Naylor would anchor the small forward position and Perry would be his running mate at power forward. But neither has been anywhere near the court for weeks. "David has had one medical procedure and appears to be facing either surgery or a year off," Tuell says. "Dionte has tried to go a few times in preseason workouts, but 10 to 15 minutes into his work he just collapses. He's too special a person and a player to ask him to try and play spot minutes for his senior year. He deserves an opportunity to have a pain-free, full season. If he can't get well, then we'll do what is best for him and for his future."

So the Sharks begin the year patching together a lineup, which is nothing new for the NSU coaching staff or players. "It's frustrating," says Tuell. "We were so excited about this team's prospects. I thought we had all the pieces together to make a nice run at a conference championship and more. Without David and Dionte other players will have to play out of position and more minutes, neither of which is ideal for them or the team. We probably lose 40 percent of our scoring and 50 percent of our rebounding without those two. But we're not without talent. We're just not as deep or as versatile as we could be."

Fully loaded, the Sharks were looking to run more this year, utilizing their depth at all five positions and especially their speed at point guard. Additionally, Tuell hoped that his team's depth and size would allow the Sharks to be a vastly improved defensive unit. "When you lose two big guys, suddenly foul problems and fatigue become areas of concern," the coach says. "That's exactly what happened last year. But I love the attitude and work ethic our kids have shown this year. They have a different energy and a different approach than last year's squad. We just have to find ways to hang in there and keep plugging along, hoping that eventually good things will happen."

Here's a position-by-position look at the '07-08 NSU squad:

POINT GUARD: Cecil Avant, a 5-6 junior transfer from Florida Gulf Coast University, is the front-runner for a starting spot. Although diminutive in size, the lightning quick Avant is not NSU's smallest point guard. That title would go to Cecil's younger brother, Arsenio, a 5-5 freshman. A third player competing for minutes at the point is 5-7 freshman Lemar Dyer. "We must have the smallest point guards in America," says Tuell. "We signed Arsenio early because we liked his leadership and his energy. Cecil fell in our lap once he received his release from Florida Gulf Coast. And by the time those two were on board we had nothing to offer Lemar, who was a player (at Miami American High) that I really, really liked. We were very fortunate that Lemar came as a walk-on. With Arsenio's ankle injury, Lemar has gotten a lot of opportunity in practice and he's taking full advantage." Tuell says Cecil Avant is "explosive, a good shooter and making strides in learning how to be a leader. He has a chance to do some nice things for us." Tuell calls all three point guards "pesky defenders who can disrupt offenses."

A fourth player, 6-foot freshman walk-on Dylan Drake, will compete for playing time at both the point and two-guard positions.

TWO GUARD: Tuell hoped that 6-7 junior Tim Coenraad and 6-7 senior Oresti Nitsios would elevate one another's games by competing daily for a starting role here. However, with Naylor and Perry on the sideline, Coenraad will once again be asked to play more as a forward, opening the door for Nitsios. "Oresti made great strides between his freshman and sophomore seasons, then dropped off last year," the NSU coach says. "He's re-dedicated himself in the off-season and working very hard to have a good senior season. It would be ideal for our team to have both Tim and Oresti playing here, and we'll still try to do that some. We even wanted to use Oresti some at point guard. But without Naylor and Perry, Tim will have to fill in those shoes. That means Oresti will have to step up at two guard." Six-foot senior walk-on Jason Del Calvo, the 6-foot Drake or even Cecil Avant could wind up with playing time here.

SMALL FORWARD: Without Naylor, Josh Wood, a 6-8 junior, finds himself competing against a pair of junior walk-ons -- 6-1 Jordan Smith and 6-4 Paul Sinclair. "Having Woody and Naylor every day would have made practices very interesting, just as having Tim and Oresti locking horns each day," says Tuell. "Now we just have to hope that the walk-ons (Smith and Sinclair) can push Woody and help him to continue his improvement. He's always been a talented player, but he's battled injuries both of his first two seasons here. Hopefully he can finally have an injury-free year and develop as we have hoped for all along. He is improving."

POWER FORWARD: Without Perry, Tuell expects the 6-7 Coenraad to start here. "Tim can do the job. At the two guard spot, he's a really difficult match up for defenders. But even at power forward, with the way we will use him, he can cause problems for a lot of people," the coach says. NSU's only other power forward is 6-8 freshman Matt Massey. "We love Matt and think he has a nice future, but ideally we wanted to play him about 10 to 15 minutes a game behind Dionte," Tuell says. "Now, we need him to make some dramatic improvements in a hurry. The better he gets and the faster he gets there, the more we can move Timmy back to the big guard spot."

CENTER: Kevin Chester, a 6-8 senior, returns for his third year as a starter. The Chicago native is an improved scorer and solid rebounder. "In the past two years Kevin has had some great moments," says Tuell. "We need him to be more consistent, and we especially need him to be a defending and rebounding force." Competing against Chester is 6-11 freshman Ross Allsop. "Ross is getting better on the offensive end but what we need most from him is to be a presence on the defensive end," says Tuell. "He has a wonderful future and I really look forward to coaching him and developing his talents. He and Matt Massey are now the key players on this team. If they can make giant strides, which is not an easy thing for freshmen, then that allows us to play a much more normal lineup."

NSU opens the '07-08 campaign with four consecutive South Region road games: November 17 and 18 against host North Alabama and the University of Alabama-Huntsville in a tip-off classic in Florence, AL., followed by single games at West Florida and Palm Beach Atlantic. "That's a rough way to begin and I know we'll take some lumps, especially the young players," says Tuell. "When we made the schedule we tried to give our older guys a challenge. Unfortunately, it looks like that challenge now falls in the laps of our young guys. They'll have to grow up in a hurry."

Tuell believes the Sharks would be a contender for the Sunshine State championship if everyone was healthy. "We finished second two years ago and fourth last year, and both seasons we were pretty decimated by injuries," he says. "Still, we were good enough to play near the top of the league on most nights. This year's team has the potential to exceed the past two, but only if David and Dionte can go."

"The team we have on the floor now ... the team without Dave and Dionte ... will have to fight for its life every night just to compete with the teams in the SSC, not to mention the other tough opponents on our schedule. It's amazing how the loss of two guys can so dramatically impact teams at our level, especially when those two players have the talent to be award winners in the post season," Tuell says. "We're got a few kids who have experienced some successes, so hopefully they can continue to fight through the adversity to be successful this season."

2006-07 SEASON REVIEW

The 2006-07 Sharks basketball team posted a 14-15 record, but the injury-plagued season contained plenty of highlights and several glimpses of what "could have been" if the injuries never occurred. The Sharks played a non-conference schedule ranked No. 1 in degree of difficulty by the NCAA. Showing that they were up to the challenge, NSU defeated three teams (Henderson State, Valdosta State, and Barry) who all advanced to the NCAA tournament. A fourth NCAA tourney team, Rollins College, needed two overtimes to hold off the Sharks.

The Sharks started the season with a loss on the road to the University of Alabama-Huntsville, but rebounded to win five of their next six games, including all three as hosts of the NSU/Courtyard Marriot

Thanksgiving Classic.

After a 60-52 Sunshine State Conference opening victory over Saint Leo University on the road, the Sharks avenged one of their earlier losses by overpowering the University of West Florida 91-69 to run their overall record to 5-2. NSU began the new year on a high note, defeating McMaster University and then conference opponent Florida Southern College before losing a 69-67 nail-biter on the road to Rollins College for their first SSC loss.

From that point on, multiple injuries to key players led to inconsistencies, as the Sharks would never lose more than two games in a row, but were also never able to put together any winning streaks.

Down the stretch, a few players returned from injury, but were not able to play at 100 percent. The presence of these players helped NSU dominate league power University of Tampa in the first round of the SSC tournament, winning 75-55, marking the first time in school history that the men's basketball team advanced to the semi-final round of the SSC tournament.

NSU would fall to defending conference champion Rollins College 62-49 in the SSC semi-finals, ending their season at 14-15, including an 8-8 record and fourth place finish in the Sunshine State Conference.

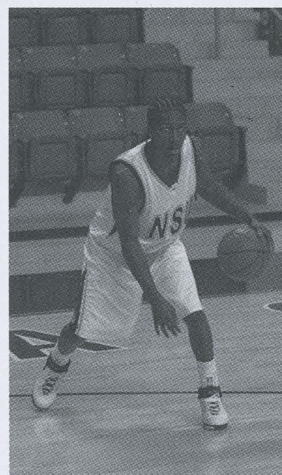

The Sharks bid farewell to two senior transfers, forward Diego Aguiar and guard Donovan Redden.

Aguiar, a second team SSC honoree, led the Sharks by scoring 14.3 points per game and pulling down 5.8 rebounds per game. Aguiar finished third in NSU history in single season points (414), points per game average (14.3), rebounds (169) and blocked shots (22) for his outstanding play over the season. He also stands fourth in rebounding average (5.8), second in field goals made (163) and fourth in blocks per game (0.88), while being second in field goal percentage (.595) and first in free throws attempted (173) in the single-season record book.

Redden, a senior transfer from West Florida, was a valuable part of the Sharks success over the season.

Redden started in 18 of the Sharks' 29 contests, averaging 7.0 points and 3.1 assists per game. He scored a career high 14 points versus No. 15 Henderson State (12/1/06) and dished out a career high 7 assists against West Florida (12/16/06).

Redden finished eighth in the SSC with 3.58 assists per game and 10th in assists to turnover ratio (1.15).

RAZOR

At 5'10", 150 lbs, RAZOR is a formidable sight on the court during the pre-game show and during halftime. While he is playful with children, RAZOR has no tolerance for opposing teams. He defends the "Shark Tank", at the University Center, tooth and fins enemy legions try to invade his waters. Many try, but few succeed; thanks to RAZOR.

SUNSHINE STATE CONFERENCE INFORMATION

Mike Marcil
Comissioner
Sunshine State Conference

Currently one the most competitive and respected conferences in NCAA Division II, the Sunshine State Conference (SSC) was founded in 1975. SSC schools captured five national championships in 2006-07 and have earned a total of 67 national championships overall.

The Sunshine State Conference has developed from a basketball organization into the NCAA Division II "Conference of National Champions." Since its inception, the conference has grown steadily in sports played, membership and national prominence.

Sunshine State Conference teams have won NCAA Division II national championships in baseball, men's basketball, men's and women's golf, men's and women's soccer, softball, men's and women's tennis and volleyball and receive national recognition in women's basketball, women's rowing and men's and women's cross country.

The SSC sponsors championships in 14 sports for men and women: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's golf, men's and women's soccer, softball, men's and women's tennis, women's rowing and volleyball.

Nova Southeastern University was officially granted membership status in the Sunshine State Conference in August 2002. Other SSC members—all in Florida—are Barry University (Miami Shores), Eckerd College (St. Petersburg), Florida Tech (Melbourne), Florida Southern College (Lakeland), Lynn University (Boca Raton), Rollins College (Winter Park), Saint Leo University (Saint Leo) and the University of Tampa (Tampa).

Numerous All-Americans, Academic All-Americans and future professional athletes have attended conference institutions. The SSC is respected for its academic foresight, setting standards that were later adopted by the NCAA.

NCAA DIVISION II INFORMATION

The National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) is the organization through which the nation's colleges and universities speak and act on athletic matters at the national level. It is a voluntary association of approximately 1,200 institutions, conferences, organizations and individuals devoted to the sound administration of intercollegiate athletics.

Through the NCAA, member colleges consider any athletics problem that crosses regional or conference lines and has become national in character. The association strives to maintain intercollegiate athletics as an integral part of the educational program and the athlete as an integral part of the student body. The NCAA also stands for good conduct in intercollegiate athletics and serves as the colleges' national athletics accrediting agency.

The NCAA has grown dramatically in the past 50 years, with more than 600 new members since 1950.

NCAA DIVISION II

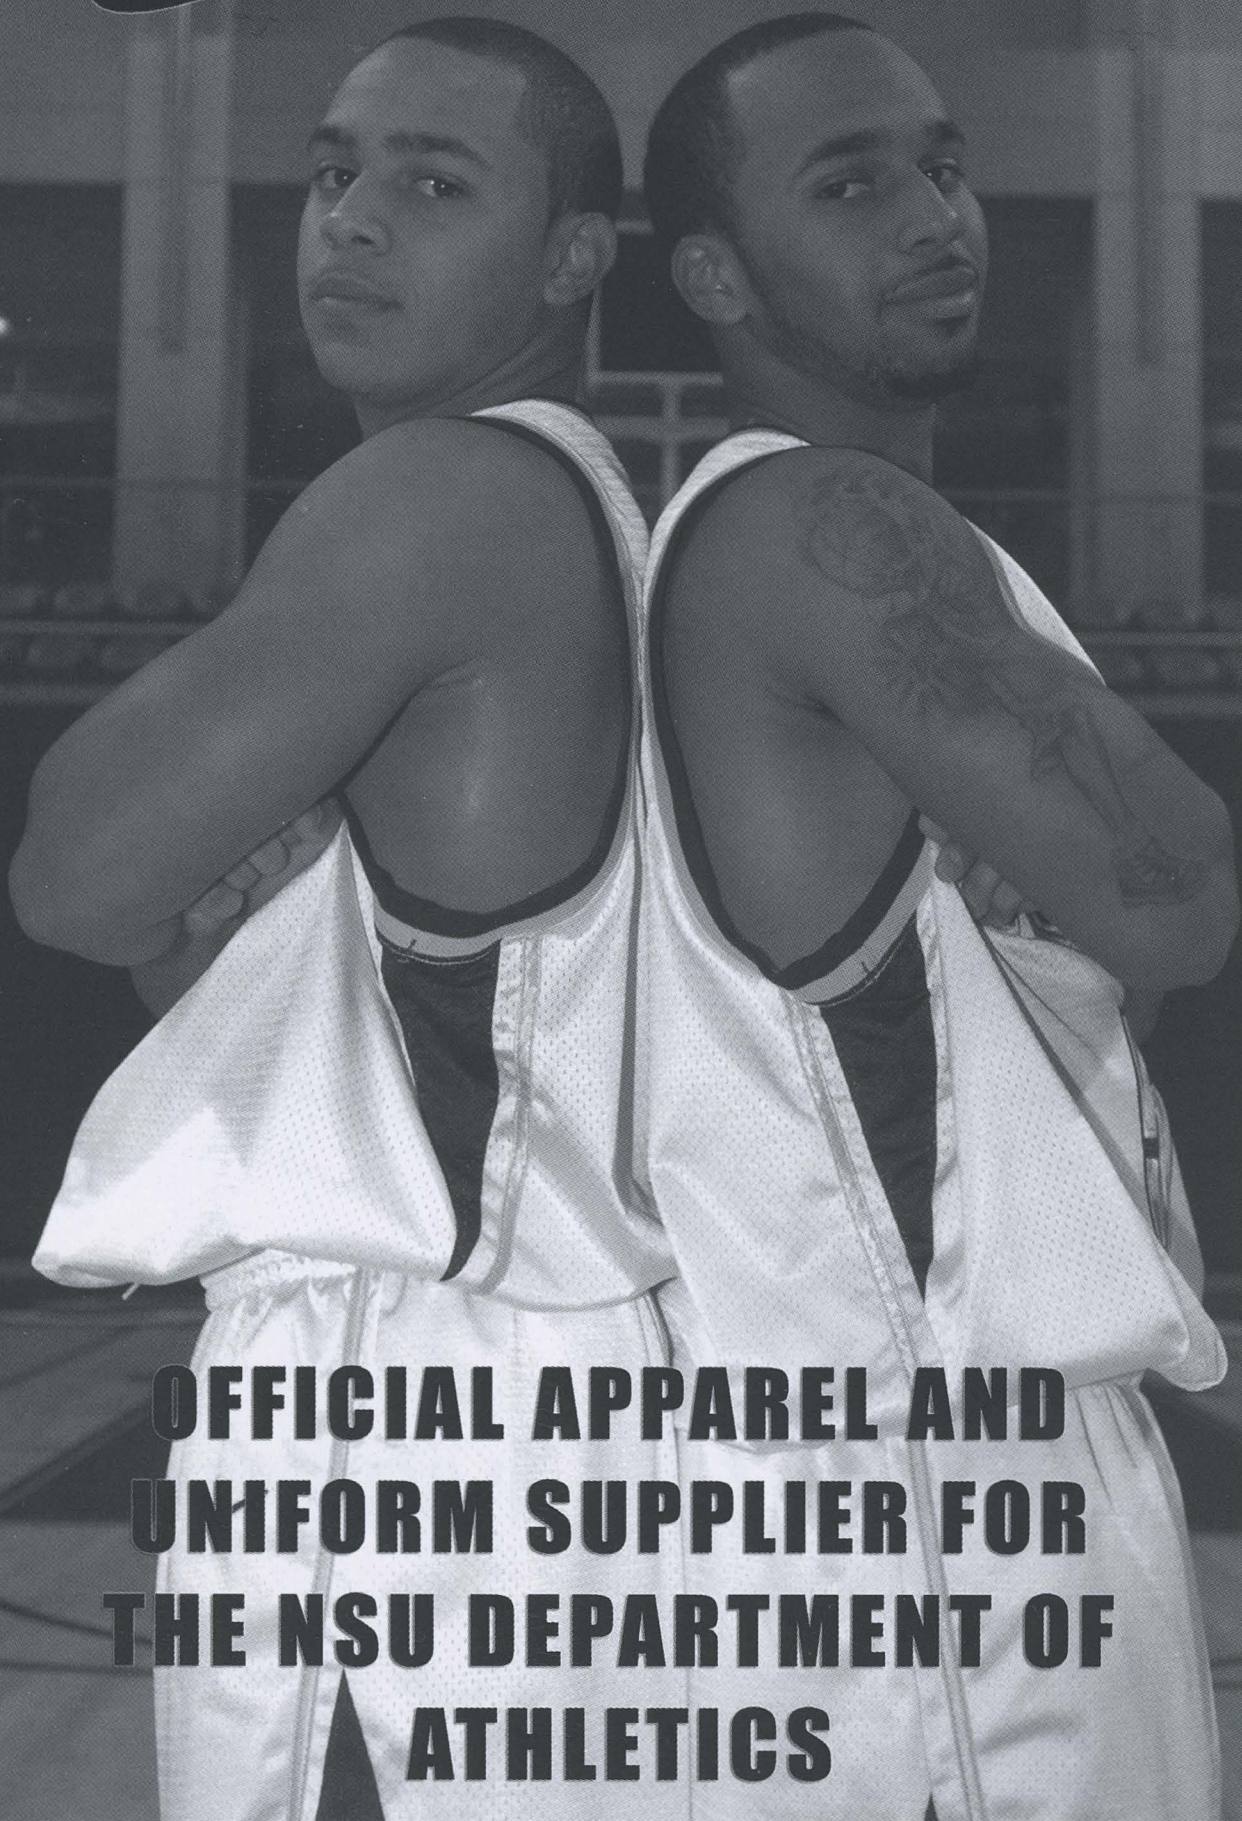

Division II institutions have to sponsor at least four sports for men and four for women, with two team sports for each gender and each playing season represented by each gender. There are contest and participant minimums for each sport, as well as scheduling criteria—football and men's and women's basketball teams must play at least 50 percent of their games against Division II or I-A or I-AA opponents.

For sports other than football and basketball, there are no scheduling requirements. There are no attendance requirements or arena game requirements for basketball. There are maximum financial aid awards for each sport that a Division II school must not exceed. Division II teams usually feature a number of local or in-state student-athletes. Many Division II student-athletes pay for school through a combination of scholarship money, grants, student loans and employment earnings. Division II athletics programs are financed in the institution's budget like academic departments on campus. Traditional rivalries with regional institutions dominate schedules of many Division II athletics programs.

NSU DEPARTMENT OF ATHLETICS

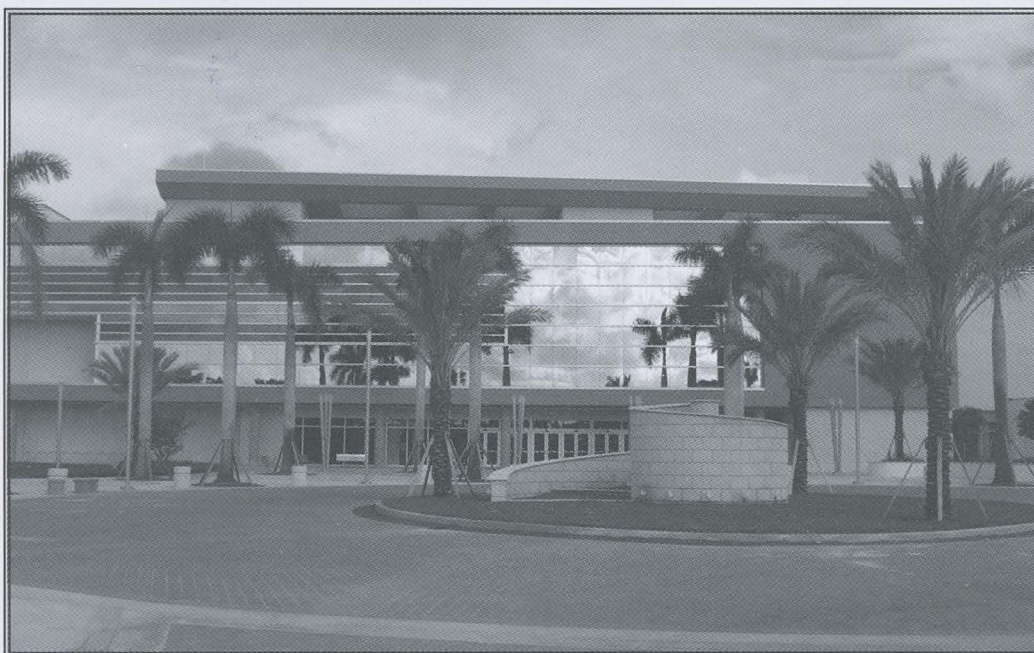

MISSION STATEMENT

Nova Southeastern University recognizes, values and supports intercollegiate athletics as an integral part of the educational mission of the university. Central to the program's mandate and in accord with the stated goals of the university, the NSU Department of Athletics commits itself to fostering leadership, lifelong learning and service to the community among its student-athletes.

The department is dedicated to sponsoring a competitive program of intercollegiate athletics for men and women. Valuing deeply the physical, social and emotional welfare of those who participate, the department and the university express this commitment through membership in the NCAA and the Sunshine State Conference, both of which exemplify the principles of amateur athletics. These include diversity, sportsmanship, fair play and equitable opportunity for all. Athletic department staff members will manifest these values in clearly discernible conduct.

The intercollegiate athletics program at Nova Southeastern University is committed to the recruitment, preparation and welfare of highly qualified and gifted men and women.

Michael Mominey
Director of Athletics/
Head Baseball Coach

Michael Mominey was named Director of Intercollegiate Athletics at Nova Southeastern University on January 2, 2002. He has led the NSU Department of Athletics into a historic and defining era, as NSU began their first year of competition in NCAA Division II in 2002 and in the Sunshine State Conference in 2004. In addition to leading the athletic program in their transition into the NCAA, Mominey has added five intercollegiate programs during his tenure (women's rowing, women's tennis, men's cross country and men's and women's outdoor track) as the student-athlete population has increased from 160 in 2002 to over 250 projected this academic year. The departmental grade point average for all NSU student-athletes has been above 3.00 for the last eight consecutive years, including a cumulative student-athlete GPA of 3.13 for the 2006-07 school-year.

2006-07 was a banner season for NSU Athletics, both on and off the fields of play. The Sharks captured Sunshine State Conference team championships in men's golf and women's rowing, and individually produced three SSC Players of the Year and three Freshman of the Year honorees and one NCAA National Player of the Year. In addition, nine NSU student-athletes were chosen as NCAA All-Americans, five were named Academic All-Americans and two received National Scholar Athlete recognition. The Sharks men's and women's Cross Country squads were both named Academic All-American Teams. Four NSU teams finished their seasons ranked in the Top-10 nationally, while the Sharks Women's Golf team had the highest GPA among all NCAA DII programs.

Mominey has been instrumental in the design, development, planning and programming phases for the University Center, which opened its doors in August 2006. The 90 million dollar, 300,000 square-foot facility serves as a home for the intercollegiate athletic program, student recreation and wellness programs and performing arts program. The venue serves as the home to the men's and women's basketball and women's volleyball programs. Also included in the building are a sports medicine and rehab center, a weight room/fitness room, team specific locker rooms, a student-athlete lounge, student union, cafeteria and a performing arts theater with rehearsal rooms. "We have been very fortunate to have had the success with our program at such early stages of our membership in the NCAA and the Sunshine State Conference. We have great support from our administration, which has allowed us to progress so quickly, always maintaining the ideals of developing the student-athlete" said Mominey. "I look forward to continuing to challenge our student-athletes, coaches and staff to be the best they can be, in hopes of building the traditions that serve as the foundation of a well respected and nationally recognized athletic program."

Mominey is also a member of the Orange Bowl Committee (elected November 2004), and serves as the vice chair of the football host committee as well as the game officials committee. He also serves on various committees throughout the community and on campus, as well as on the Sunshine State Conference marketing and officials committees. Mominey is also the Division II representative on the NIKE Baseball Advisory Board. With more than 15 years of experience in athletic administration in the professional, collegiate and scholastic ranks, Mominey served as the athletic director at Chaminade-Madonna College Preparatory in Hollywood, Florida from 1996–2000. He also served as the assistant director of athletics at St. Thomas University from 1992–1996.

Prior to relocating to South Florida, Mominey was the assistant to player development and scouting for the Cleveland Indians Baseball Club from 1990–1992 and worked as an associate scout for the Tribe from 1993–1996. While working in the front office of the major league club and was directly involved in the day to day operations of the scouting and player development departments under Major League general managers John Hart (Cleveland Indians & Texas Rangers) and Dan O'Dowd (Colorado Rockies).

Mominey is also the head coach of NSU's nationally ranked baseball program, where he originally was employed at NSU on August 1, 2000. In 2007, the NSU baseball team posted a program-best 36-19 NCAA mark. Since joining the NCAA six years ago, the Sharks have averaged over 30 wins per season and have consistently been ranked in the top 25 nationally, ranking as high as number seven.

Mominey graduated from St. Thomas University in 1994 with a master's degree in Sports Administration and from Bowling Green University (Ohio) in 1990 with a bachelor's degree in Education/Sport Management.

Mark Cavanaugh PhD
Faculty Athletic Representative

Mark Cavanaugh is an associate professor in the Division of Social and Behavioral Sciences at NSU and has served as faculty athletic representative since 1989. He holds a bachelor's degree in literature from Iona College in New Rochelle, New York, as well as master's and doctoral degrees in Sociology and Social Psychology from the University of Notre Dame.

During NSU's membership in the NAIA, Cavanaugh served as eligibility chairperson for the Florida Sun Conference for 10 years, overseeing the academic eligibility of athletes from all member schools. Along with former Director of Athletics Corey Johnson, Cavanaugh initiated the process that resulted in NSU's affiliation with the NCAA.

He is a past president of the Faculty Athletic Representatives' Association of the NAIA, where he also served as secretary. A former member of the National Association of Academic Advisers for Athletics (N4A), Cavanaugh chaired that organization's Committee on Student-Athlete Concerns for four years, beginning in 1993.

He has published and spoken widely on the personal development of collegiate student-athletes. His research areas include the study of consciousness, as well as human performance factors, especially as they relate to highly skilled activities such as athletics and music.

A musician himself, Cavanaugh is an arranger, conductor, pianist and composer, regularly writing for collegiate bands, choral groups and professional symphony orchestras.

He has recently conducted and recorded with the Bohuslav Martinu Philharmonic Orchestra in the Czech Republic and is the composer and lyricist of the NSU school songs, which include the NSU Fight Song and University Anthem.

On campus, Cavanaugh is the host of the popular "Life 101" series, which brings noteworthy people to NSU for the purpose of sharing their insights and experiences with the university community. A popular master of ceremonies, he also hosts the annual Student Life Achievement Awards, at which the university recognizes campus-wide excellence and service. Cavanaugh lives in Plantation, Florida.

LIFE 101...PERSONALLY SPEAKING

The overall goal of "Life 101" is to bring leaders from business, entertainment, politics and athletics to our campus. By meeting these guest speakers, the NSU community is educated and inspired by their life accomplishments and "life lessons" learned along the way. The interactive, 60-minute interview program is hosted by a faculty member and allows students and the University community to ask questions directly to the guest at the end of the program.

ATHLETICS' HISTORY

1980 –

- To boost the limited undergraduate enrollment at its Davie Campus, Nova president, Abraham S. Fischler, and the Board of Trustees looked to try something new: build a sports program. Nova University had a graduate school enrollment of about 7,000 students, with nontraditional, field-based programs scattered in 22 states, offering limited graduate and undergraduate degree programs on campus.

- Charles "Sonny" Hansley is named director of athletics for the first-ever athletic department at Nova University. The first program to field a team was men's basketball, which began competition during the 1982-83 school-year. Hansley served as the head coach for the Nova University men's basketball team, which played as an independent program, not affiliated with a conference.
- Nova University finds an athletics nickname. A contest, which was open to the general public, was held to come up with a nickname for the new athletic program at Nova University. The nickname "Knights" was chosen, after being deemed the most popular submission by contest participants.

- The Nova's men's basketball team goes 11-12 in their second season, still competing as an independent program.

1984 –

- Nova University adds men's soccer, women's volleyball and men's and women's cross country, Nova University becomes a member of the National Little College Athletic Association (NLCAA)

1985 –

- Nova University joins the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA). Undergraduate enrollment at this time is 222.
- The Nova University women's volleyball team finishes 9-4, and wins District 25 Championship.

1986 –

- Dag Cohen, a midfielder for Nova University's men's soccer team, is named a First Team All-American by the National Soccer Coaches Association. Cohen is the first Nova athlete, in any sport, to be so honored, as he helped the men's soccer team to a 13-5-0 record and NAIA District 7 Championship.
- The Nova University women's volleyball team repeats as District 25 Champions with a 16-12 season.

- Nova University adds baseball, women's tennis and men's golf, offering three women's and five men's athletic teams.
- With a record of 19-7, the Nova University women's volleyball team wins their third straight District 25 Championship.
- Men's soccer player Jonas Westher is named an NAIA Second Team All-American and NSCAA Honorable Mention All-American, as the Knights finish 9-8-2 and qualify for the District 25 Tournament.

1988 –

- Men's soccer player Richard Carlsson is an NAIA Third Team All-American and NSCAA Honorable Mention All-American, as the Nova University men's soccer team again finishes 13-5-0 and makes its first NAIA National Tournament appearance.
- The women's volleyball team wins their fourth District 25 Championship with a 17-8 mark.

1989 –

- The women's volleyball team records their fifth consecutive District 25 Championship.

1990 –

- Nova University joins with seven other NAIA schools (Flagler College, Webber College, St. Thomas University, Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University, Palm Beach Atlantic College, Warner Southern College and Florida Memorial College) to form the FIAC (Florida Intercollegiate Athletic Conference).

ATHLETIC TRAINING

FARQUHAR COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES
DIVISION OF MATH, SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

What is an ATC?

The Certified Athletic Trainer (ATC) is a highly educated and skilled professional who specializes in health care for those engaged in physical activity. Athletic trainers are vital to the prevention, treatment and rehabilitation of athletic injuries. The athletic trainer works closely with physicians, coaches and other medical and allied health personnel to help provide the highest quality of health care to athletes in clinics, high schools, colleges, universities and professional sports teams.

The Academic Program

Nova Southeastern University's Farquhar College of Arts and Sciences offers a compelling undergraduate curriculum in athletic training. The dedicated faculty and staff members become excellent role models for athletic training students, while providing athletic training service to an NCAA Division II athletics program. The athletic training major, established in 2003, is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education (CAATE), effective March 2007. Athletic training students will graduate with a bachelor of science degree in athletic training and will be eligible to sit for the Board of Certification (BOC) examination. This dynamic athletic training curriculum balances class instruction and clinical experience. NSU incorporates the intimacy of a small college education with the resources of the largest private university in the Southeast. In this dynamic, state-of-the-art program, qualified students earning a bachelor of science degree in athletic training may continue into a professional degree program for physician assistants, occupational therapy or physical therapy.

Clinical Experience

Athletic training students will work closely with certified athletic trainers to gain clinical experience with Nova Southeastern University athletics, sports clinics, high schools and professional sports venues in South Florida. These hands-on clinical opportunities apply and refine skills learned in the classroom. Other medical professionals, such as physicians, physician assistants and physical therapists from Nova Southeastern University's Health Professions Division are also involved in this academic clinical experience.

Admission

To enter the athletic training program, you must first be admitted to Nova Southeastern University in good standing and register for Introduction to Athletic Training (ATTR 1100) during the fall semester. This course will guide you through the application process and appropriate deadlines. The stadium style seating is the newest addition to the complex, which was built prior to the 2000 season. The U.S. Women's National Soccer Team as well as several MLS teams, including the Miami Fusion have used NSU's complex as their training site.
