Interested in surgery?

If you are a registered Halmos College junior or senior, have a science GPA of 3.0+, have successfully completed Anatomy & Physiology and Medical Terminology, and are interested in getting more hands-on medical and surgical experience, this might be the internship for you! Interning abroad immersed me in an environment that motivated me to think outside the box to succeed. It provided me with a unique opportunity to advance in my field, make new connections across the world, and forge lasting memories from incredible adventures.
