NOVA SOUTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY

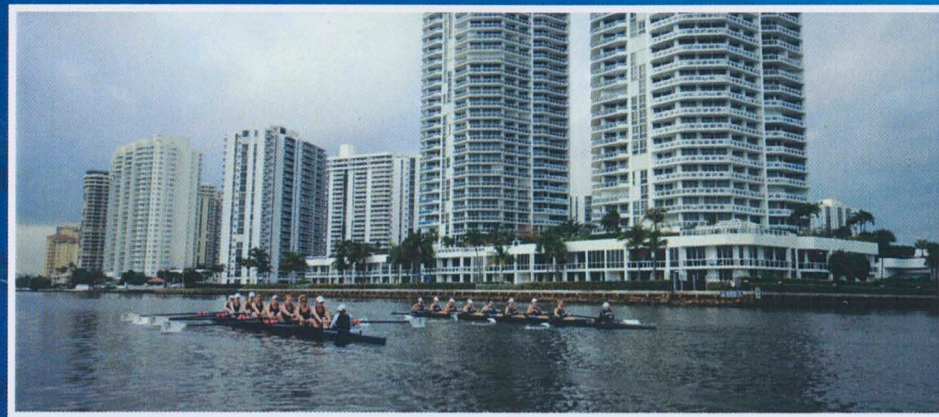

SHARKS

ROWING

TWO THOUSAND TWELVE

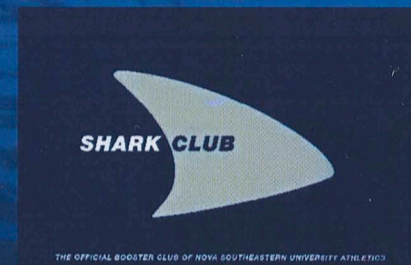

WELCOME TO HOLLAND PARK!

The Nova Southeastern University rowing program trains and competes along the waters of the Intracoastal Waterway. NSU rows out of Holland Park in Hollywood, Fla., giving the Sharks easy, year-round access to miles of flat water, even while many schools are forced off their water by ice. The Sharks possess a number of shells, including eights, fours, quads, pairs and doubles. NSU also trains on campus at the state-of-the-art NSU Strength and Conditioning Complex, which includes max impact flooring, 16 hammer strength racks, six sets of UCS plyo-safe boxes, 10 TRX suspension trainers, iron grip customized urethane dumbbells, 10 plus hammer strength Iso pieces, 10 feet customized side boards, four keiser trainers, eight sets of customized werksan olympic bumpers and bars, star trac treadmills with 15" HD TV's embedded in the touch panel and over 15 tons of free weight equipment and more all offered in the new Strength facility.
