APPLICATION
The School of Business and Entrepreneurship is committed to offering educational programs that are highly relevant to the needs of the business community. The Master of International Business Administration (M.I.B.A.) program is a reflection of that perspective. Now in its second decade, this program has evolved over time as the focus of business activities that have become increasingly global. The curriculum represents one of the most concentrated coverages of relevant international topics to be found in higher education. Its developmental process has addressed the need for two types of knowledge: an overview and perspective on the environment of international business, and an understanding of the more micro aspects of functioning in the conduct and management of a range of critical activities. Courses range from those focusing on the economic, cultural, and legal environment, through international operations and marketing, to international competitiveness.

The courses are scheduled to meet the needs of both full-time and part-time students. This arrangement brings together an international student body, both in terms of nationality and country of origin and in terms of the range of business experience represented. In creating the most relevant educational experience possible, the faculty is chosen on the basis of both academic and “real-world” experience in the international community. The library resources include relevant data bases as well as consortium holdings of periodical literature.

If you are searching for an education that will prepare you for the ongoing expansion of international business activities into the next century, you will find the M.I.B.A. program right on target.

Dr. J. Preston Jones
M.I.B.A. PROGRAMS

There is a growing demand for highly trained managers who can lead their organizations through the volatile business environment that exists globally today. An M.I.B.A. can help you reach your career goals with potential for greater job satisfaction, higher earnings, and personal fulfillment.

The curriculum reflects the need for increased understanding and a clear perspective in coping with the complexity of the international business environment. It emphasizes the interrelationship and interaction of nations, cultures, and firms, examining the major forces affecting executive strategy formulation and decision making. In doing so, it seeks to provide analysis and integration of major factors including political, economic, and social considerations.

Complementary to developing relevant perspective, the program affords consideration of operational matters. The coverage of functional activities relating to aspects of international and multinational business is designed to provide necessary knowledge for implementation and execution of plans. Topics chosen from the areas of management and control, finance, marketing, and logistics provide appropriate skills.

WEEKEND
The Weekend M.I.B.A. program format is designed to be accessible to working professionals. The Weekend M.I.B.A. typically involves six quarters of study with classes meeting on alternate weekends, (Friday evening and all day Saturday).

DAY
The One-Year Day M.I.B.A. program is designed for individuals with little or no professional work experience or for those seeking a career change. The program consists of four terms of full-time study. Whether you are a recent college graduate without business experience, or an experienced professional evaluating career options, the One-Year Day M.I.B.A. is highly recommended.

"Course content was stimulating and relevant to current business themes and all instructors had extensive backgrounds in the business sector, enabling them to flavor the classes with lots of real world experience. When I began the M.I.B.A. program, NSU was one of the few schools that provided a weekend format and this type of schedule worked best for me. Class sizes were conducive to learning, providing for maximum personal interaction with much diversity."

SBE M.I.B.A.'s are a cohesive group. Many are active in the GBSA, an organization within the SBE, established to promote group interaction, social networking, professional development, and entry into the local business community. Typical events include picnics, faculty-student mixers, intramural sports, and cruises. The GBSA also provides an opportunity for the student body to interact with local business and government leaders through forums, debates, and educational programs.
Career Resources

The Career Resource Center (CRC) at NSU is there to assist students and alumni in all aspects of the career decision-making, planning, and job search process. While you are ultimately responsible for securing your own employment, NSU provides the resources, contacts, and information to help you determine a career strategy that suits your interests, requirements, and goals. Below are but a few of the resources available to NSU students and alumni.

Career Counseling

The Career Resource Center offers individual career counseling for students and alumni in need of assistance with:

- Choosing or changing a career direction
- Identifying career goals
- Establishing a plan of action
- Writing a resume or cover letter
- Preparing for interviews
- Conducting a job search

Jobline/Employment Listings

Jobline—A computerized job database available in the CRC and computer labs on campus.

Employment Listings—A variety of resources with numerous career positions immediately available in South Florida, the state, out of state, and overseas.

Web Walk Up—Students and alumni view job listings that match their major/degree or browse jobs listed by qualifications from anywhere in the world, 24-hours a day, via the World Wide Web. Students/alumni must be registered with the Career Resource Center.

Disc Resume—A powerful computer software package used to register with the Career Resource Center and electronically refer the resumes of students and alumni to employment opportunities.

Career Assessments—Strong Interest Inventory assesses an individual's interests in a variety of areas. Additionally, the Strong profiles responses as to what professions the individual has similar interests to, as well as providing information about his/her interests and their relationship to the world of work.

Myers-Briggs Type Indicator—A self report, personality inventory. It can be used to help individuals identify preferred work environments, roles, and functions. Upon scoring an MBTI, a counselor will provide type information and how to use the results to explore options in the world of work.

FOCUS—A computerized career and educational planning system that assists individuals in discovering and exploring occupations, educational programs, and career paths.

"The SBE's M.I.B.A. program has been the missing link in my international business career. Studying with such a diversified student body, experienced and accessible faculty, and working professionals generates a synergy in which the results are far larger than the sum of its parts. The format allows this synergy to take place by maximizing the efficiency of class attendance into five alternating weekends. The program's comprehensive curriculum certainly integrates a global business world view with one's own professional experience."

SKILL SCAN—A tool used to identify and categorize transferable skills. The goal of the skill scan assessment is to help participants identify appropriate career change opportunities, and learn how to market those skills to employers.

Career Resource Library—A resource room with information on graduate schools, careers, resume writing, interviewing techniques, and other career-planning material. Reference magazines and newspapers, study-abroad information, and company information are also available.

Cooperative Education/Internship—An educational program that enables students to merge academic credit with practical, hands-on, paid or non-paid work experience in a position directly related to their academic degree program. Students use their skills, ingenuity, and academic knowledge in career-related work, which better prepares them for the competitive employment market after graduation or for further academic studies. Students enhance their learning experience as they actively apply what they have learned within the work environment.

Career Expo—Each year more than 50 employers representing the private, public, and nonprofit sectors participate in the Career Expo. This event enables students and alumni to meet with employers for employment opportunities and career information.

CRC Web site—Grads Helping Grads is a WWW page linked to the CRC Web page. This service provides information about NSU graduates—alumni who are looking for a position as well as those who are looking to hire another NSU graduate. Available positions are posted with a brief description and information about contacting the employer. Qualifications of NSU graduates are posted on a linked page, including a 75-word description of their qualifications and their contact information.

The CRC WWW page can be found at http://www.nova.edu/cwis/crc/crc.html and provides links to many other career-related services found on the Web.

Interviews

One-year day students are invited to visit the campus and meet with a member of the M.I.B.A. program staff. Please try to schedule your visit at least one month in advance of registration. To arrange a campus visit, please contact the marketing department at 800-672-7223, Ext. 5100.

Undergraduate Foundation Courses

Not everyone pursuing an M.I.B.A. has an undergraduate degree in international business. Liberal arts, business, and engineering are samples of the diverse backgrounds M.I.B.A. candidates possess. The M.I.B.A. does require that students be prepared with knowledge in certain areas before taking the graduate-level course in that discipline. Students are asked to demonstrate proficiency in macroeconomics, finance, statistics, and accounting. The SBE affords several different methods for acquiring this foundational knowledge, including on-line offerings. However, not all foundational courses for the M.I.B.A. program are offered in the on-line environment. Individuals requiring information on how to best fulfill the prerequisite courses are encouraged to speak with a representative from the Office of Marketing and Student Development, (954) 262-5100 or 800-672-7223, Ext. 5100.

Transfer Credit

A maximum of six semester hours (two courses) of graduate-level credit taken at other regionally or nationally accredited institutions may be applied toward a master’s degree at Nova Southeastern University. Transfer credit must be reviewed and approved as graduate-level credit by the director of the M.I.B.A. program. Graduate students desiring transfer credit must submit a written request for evaluation to the M.I.B.A. program director. The students are asked to send a photocopy of the course description with the written request.

International Students

The SBE community is truly multicultural, with students coming from many different countries. The SBE welcomes this diversity and encourages international students to consider our programs for their educational pursuits. As an international student, your professional and cultural experiences will enhance the learning environment, providing depth and character to the curriculum. International students choosing to pursue their studies at our Main Campus in Fort Lauderdale are required to fulfill specific requirements...
LIBRARY RESOURCES

The Einstein Library, on NSU’s Main Campus, houses the University’s major collection of books and journals in the humanities, business, and sciences. More than 35 specialized indexes in CD-ROM format are available in house, and an additional 60 databases are available to distance students via the Internet. The online book catalog is also available for remote searching. The library is a member of SEFLIN and FLIN, cooperative library networks that provide fast access to materials from other institutions throughout Florida. The Einstein Library is a cooperating library of the Foundation Center in New York, giving students access to a special collection for grants and foundation research.

To supplement its collection, the Einstein Library has lending agreements with two large research libraries in the Midwest: Wayne State University, and the University of Michigan’s document delivery service, MITS. These libraries will provide document delivery services for NSU’s distance students, in effect greatly expanding the collection of NSU’s library system. These two institutions have combined holdings of over 10 million volumes, and 125,000 journal subscriptions. The catalogs of these institutions can be searched directly, and there are links to these catalogs from the Book Catalogs section of the Electronic Library.

All requests for materials should be sent to the Einstein Document Delivery department (use blue library request forms if you’re on campus, use the online forms or e-mail requests to library@nsu.nova.edu if you’re a distance student). Materials may also be ordered by toll free fax or regular mail.

The Einstein Library provides off-campus students with most of the library services available to on-campus students. Students may order books, journal articles, dissertations, and reprints of papers, search catalogs, search indexes, and speak directly with a reference librarian. Librarians also travel with SBE technology staff to cluster sites to provide information about services to distance students, and training in the use of the online databases.

MICROLAB

One of the University’s major computer resources, the MicroLab located on the Main Campus, offers hardware and software resources for course work and workshops based on applied microcomputer technology. The lab has the most popular microcomputers—IBM, Gateway, Zenith, and Apple—and online facilities are available for access to the UNIX operating system. Labs are available on both the Main and East campuses for registered students, providing various software packages—computer-assisted instruction, word processing, database management, electronic spreadsheet, and statistical programs. For a description of our computing facilities see the SBE Overview, page 16.
