ACT 5001 Introductory Accounting (3.00 cr.)
An accelerated introductory course stressing the essential elements of accounting skills that will be used in the master's degree program. Managerial uses of accounting data and preparation of financial statements will be covered in this course. Course satisfies program prerequisite of financial accounting for master's degree programs.

ACT 5140 Accounting for Decision Makers (3.00 cr.)
This course focuses on the various ways decision makers in all organizations can use accounting information. The focus is NOT to train students to produce accounting information. Rather, the focus is to train students to interpret, evaluate, and use accounting information. Accounting information can be used to support a variety of real world decisions, including evaluating an organization's financial position, planning future activities (short and long-term), motivating behavior, and evaluating performance. We will discuss both financial accounting (focusing on external users of accounting information) and managerial accounting (focusing on internal users of accounting information). We will also discuss the regulatory environment that governs financial accounting. We will discuss international accounting issues such as International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) and transfer prices. Prerequisites: ACT 5001 or equivalent and QNT 5000 or equivalent with grade of B-or better and no older than 5 years.

FIN 5008  Business Finance  (3.00 cr.)
An accelerated introductory course stressing the essential elements of finance knowledge. Course satisfies program prerequisite of finance for master's degree programs. Financial management as it applies to organizations, time value of money concepts and applications, discounted cash flows and securities valuation will be covered in this course as well as preparation of financial statements and managerial uses of accounting data.

FIN 5130  Financial Management  (3.00 cr.)
Students will gain a working knowledge of financial management by learning to develop a systematic approach to financial analysis; to apply techniques for planning, forecasting, and managing; as well as to evaluate and recommend improvements in the organization's financial performance. Prerequisite Change: FIN 5008 or FINP 5008 or equivalent with a grade of B- or better. Prerequisite courses can be no older than 5 years

ISM 5150  Information Systems Strategy and Data Management  (3.00 cr.)
Information and communication technologies and their strategic application in business processes are essential components of today's global business environment. This course explores the use of information systems and data management in a business setting to build innovative business models and systems, optimize business processes, capture and leverage valuable data, and deploy strategies for creating competitive advantage. The implementation and use of these systems to build strategic partnerships and customer relationships are also discussed.

MGT 5001  Developing Academic and Career Success  (1.00 cr.)
This course focuses on preparing students for academic and career success. Topics include working effectively in teams, academic writing and research skills, networking, business ethics, social responsibility, sustainability and leadership qualities for effective performance in the work place. Through formal and informal interactions with faculty and business leaders, students will examine, explore and practice skills necessary to perform successfully in their academic and professional life.

MGT 5105  Managing Organizational Behavior in a Dynamic and Complex World  (3.00 cr.)
Students will gain a thorough understanding of individual, group and organizational behavior. Students will utilize this knowledge to build practical skills in leading individuals and teams to high performance. Through a variety of teaching methods, students will learn to diagnose their business environment, identify and analyze problems, and develop sound, creative and socially-responsible solutions to help their organizations thrive in a complex and uncertain world.

MGT 5170 Applying Strategy for Managers (3.00 cr.)

Students will integrate knowledge across the fields studied in the MBA program and apply entrepreneurial and strategic practices to organizations of varying sizes. The goal is to create value for the organization and shareholders and ensure sustainable growth. Students will use critical thinking skills to formulate, implement and evaluate strategic decisions in a dynamic, competitive, regulated, global environment. Throughout the course, students will apply strategic management concepts to real world and simulated situations and assess the effect on competitive advantage. Prerequisites: MGT 5105 or MGT 5020, and MKT 5125 or MKT 5070, and FIN 5130 or FIN 5080 or FIN 5970 or FIN 5805, and ACT 5140 or ACT 5060 or ACT 5809, and ISM 5150 or ISM 5085 or ISM 5014, and QNT 5160 or QNT 5040.

MKT 5125 Marketing Decisions for Managers (3.00 cr.)

Students will gain a working knowledge of the decisions marketing managers make by learning to think strategically. Students will develop marketing plans aligning marketing decisions and strategies. Students will be able to implement marketing decisions to optimize customer and organizational value.

QNT 5000 Foundations of Business Statistics (3.00 cr.)

This course covers collection, description, analysis, interpretation, and presentation of data to support business decision making. Probability distributions, central limit theorem, statistical inference for uni-variate data; correlation analysis and introduction to linear regression modeling and their application to real world business problems are discussed. The data analysis capabilities of Microsoft Excel are integrated throughout the course.

QNT 5160 Data Driven Decision Making (3.00 cr.)

Data is rapidly becoming one of our most important and valuable business assets. This course covers the concepts and practices of decision-making with the application of analytical methods that can leverage the value of that data. Students will gain a working knowledge of various quantitative models and techniques such as simulation, queueing and forecasting. Emphasis will be given to decisions that must be made in a real world environment where the explicit consideration of risk and uncertainty is a critical factor. Decision-making applications will include operational areas such as capacity planning, demand management, and inventory control. Prerequisites: QNTP 5000 or QNTP 5002 with a grade of B- or better and FINP 5001 or FINP 5008 with a grade of B- or better. Prerequisite courses can be no older than 5 years.
