

1-1-2015

Soledad En Las Estrellas

Kyle Bolston
Nova Southeastern University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://nsuworks.nova.edu/digressions>

Part of the Poetry Commons

Recommended Citation

Bolston, Kyle (2015) "Soledad En Las Estrellas," Digressions Literary Magazine: Vol. 12 , Article 4.
Available at: <https://nsuworks.nova.edu/digressions/vol12/iss1/4>

This Poetry is brought to you for free and open access by the CAHSS Journals at NSUWorks. It has been accepted for inclusion in Digressions Literary Magazine by an authorized editor of NSUWorks. For more information, please contact nsuworks@nova.edu.

Soledad en las Estrellas
(Solitude in the Stars)

Kyle Boltson

Looking up at the night sky, I smile, memories of looking into her eyes.
So late into the night, the energy of joy did keep us up,
moments of beauty spent together.
Onto the stern, and over the ocean we look, laughing
at the sleeping fishes the ships engine had shook.
The ocean breeze, quite cold, come closer, it is you that I hold.
So cute and so pretty in my arms, let's go for a walk,
I won't do you no harm.
It was very nice to meet you, I must admit, I'm charmed.
Let's climb to the top of the world and see the allure of the sea.
And to feel the happiness between you and me.
Let's look around, and take pictures beyond the city.
Onto the deck we travel now, conversation that makes me smile somehow.
Comparing the dark waters to your eyes, which is more beautiful?
I cannot decide.
I see the stars in the ocean, and in the sky.
It is getting late and I know I will miss you, but I must kiss you before we say goodbye.