NSU MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of Nova Southeastern University, a private, not-for-profit institution, is to offer a diverse array of innovative academic programs that complement on-campus educational opportunities and resources with accessible, distance-learning programs to foster academic excellence, intellectual inquiry, leadership, research, and commitment to community through engagement of students and faculty members in a dynamic, lifelong learning environment.

Letter from the Interim HPD Chancellor

NSU's Health Professions Division (HPD) is playing a pivotal role in leading the university to new levels of excellence. The division comprises eight distinctive colleges—osteopathic medicine, pharmacy, optometry, medical sciences, dental medicine, health care sciences, nursing, and allopathic medicine—that offer more than 60 degree and certificate programs.

We have seen the university reach many milestones recently. In September 2017, NSU received the largest philanthropic gift in its history from physicians Dr. Kiran C. Patel, M.D., and his wife, Dr. Pallavi Patel, M.D., which included a $50-million gift and an additional $150-million real estate and facility investment in Clearwater, Florida.

Then, in January 2018, the Patels provided additional gifts totaling close to $30 million, while a substantial contribution from longtime donors Ron and Kathy Assaf resulted in new HPD enhancements. The altruistic trend continued in February 2018, when a significant gift from Martin and Gail Press resulted in the renaming of the HPD Library.

In October 2017, our allopathic medicine college received preliminary accreditation. As a result, the college gained approval to begin interviewing and accepting its inaugural class of 50 students in August 2018. Finally, construction commenced on the HCA East Florida hospital that will be located on NSU's Fort Lauderdale/Davie Campus.

These exciting developments will ensure that our students receive a well-rounded education at an academic institution that prides itself on being dynamic, innovative, and interprofessional in its academic approach.

Occupational Therapy

Occupational therapy (OT) offers an opportunity to combine science with creativity to improve and enhance the lives and functions of individuals, while preventing disruptions in their daily occupations (driving, working, dressing, meal preparation, or whatever they may consider meaningful to life). Occupational therapists help redesign people's lives and environments so they can function to their maximum in the activities important to them. Occupational therapists work with a wide variety of individuals from infants and older adults with psychiatric, developmental, cognitive, and/or physical impairments, to healthy individuals who have had interruptions in their day-to-day functioning (such as injured workers, premature babies, and individuals who are homeless, among others). Opportunities in this field are limitless.

More than 100,000 occupational therapists and occupational therapy assistants work in public and private schools, private practices, community-based programs, nursing homes, hospitals, home health agencies, outpatient clinics, disability insurance companies, pediatric programs, prisons, work rehabilitation programs, sheltered workshops, homeless programs, drug and alcohol rehabilitation programs, and day treatment and other psychiatric programs. Employment of occupational therapists is projected to grow 27 percent from 2014 to 2024, much faster than the average for all occupations. Occupational therapy ranks in the top 15 fastest growing jobs and among the top 25 best paying jobs for college graduates ages 20–29.

The faculty members of the Nova Southeastern University Department of Occupational Therapy are internationally known for their leadership roles in the profession. They are equally well known for their scholarly pursuits and many publications. Here at NSU, we are also home to the virtual community called Community and Health Advocacy through Occupational Studies (CHAOS) and its scholarly publication, OCCUPATION: A Medium of Inquiry for Students, Faculty, and Other Practitioners Advocating for Health through Occupational Studies.

Vision Statement

The Nova Southeastern University Occupational Therapy O.T.D. blended (hybrid) distance and face-to-face program is exemplary in promoting leadership; lifelong learning; service; evidence-based, reflective practice; and scholarship for professional excellence in occupational therapy.

Mission Statement

Entry-Level Doctor of Occupational Therapy Program

Through its innovative curricular design and delivery model, the entry-level Doctor of Occupational Therapy (O.T.D.) program prepares qualified students to become successful occupational therapy practitioners, managers, and leaders who are generalists with beginning specialization in a selected practice area. The program prepares students with knowledge and skills for competent entry-level, occupation-based practice; professional leadership; and the drive to remain contemporary in a variety of contexts for an ever-changing world—armed with a doctoral level of expertise and clinical reasoning applied to clinical specialization, leadership, research, theory explorations, program and policy development, administration, advocacy, and/or education. As part of our vision, our departmental mission will seek to lead the profession and community through its contributions in educational leadership, community and professional service, lifelong learning, and scholarly endeavors.

Entry-Level Doctor of Occupational Therapy Program

Course of Study (starting each summer)

Nova Southeastern University, with its entry-level program leading to a Doctor of Occupational Therapy (O.T.D.) degree, is one of the pioneer accredited university programs that offer entry-level doctoral degrees in occupational therapy. Classes for NSU's 3 1/3-year, blended (hybrid) distance/face-to-face O.T.D. program are held at the NSU Tampa Campus. The program, designed to attract creative and compassionate individuals who like to help others achieve their potential, meets the need for occupational therapy education beyond a master's degree by students who want flexibility while performing their domestic roles.

A distance/face-to-face blended program means that students will receive part of their education at the Tampa Campus during four-day institutes taught by reputable faculty members approximately once a month per semester. Students take the remainder of each course in an online format, using state-of-the-art technology for information, communication, and collaboration. Success in the program requires the ability to navigate the university's learning management system (currently Blackboard); manage electronic communications; utilize research and information databases in and out of the World Wide Web; and apply software, among other technology, when participating in the didactic, clinical, and research components of the NSU Tampa O.T.D. curriculum. Utilization of technology and networked resources mirrors provision of care by doctorally prepared occupational therapists. The program's goal is to provide graduates with opportunities to optimally prepare for real-world practice. During the program, students accumulate approximately 2,000 hours of clinical education. The location of these clinical sites are subject to availability. Clinical education and face-to-face institutes are the only times when students may have to leave their residences and/or take time away from their daily occupations. The clinical education includes three 3-week Level I and two 12-week Level II fieldwork experience rotations, plus a 16-week doctoral residency.

NSU's Tampa O.T.D. program is dedicated to preparing occupational therapists to serve as part of an interdisciplinary team of health professionals in a variety of practice settings, including hospitals, schools, outpatient, private practice, and home health, as well as in programs they develop where occupational therapists are not yet employed. Course activities promote clinical decision-making and problem-solving skills at all levels of interaction with patients and clients, from initial examination to outcomes assessment. Students' clinical competency will be evaluated both in the basic sciences and clinical skills prior to fieldwork experiences and a 16-week doctoral residency.

- Level I fieldwork experiences comprise three 3-week, full-time internships that allow students to apply occupational therapy concepts and theories at selected clinic or other settings.
- Level II fieldwork experiences comprise two 12-week, full-time clinical internships at approved settings that provide students with supervised occupational therapy service while they complete predoctoral preparation.
- The doctoral residency includes 16 weeks of in-depth experience in one or more of the following areas: clinical practice research, administration, leadership, program and policy development, advocacy, education, or theory development.

Graduates of the entry-level O.T.D. program will be eligible to sit for the certification examination administered by the National Board for Certification in Occupational Therapy (NBCOT). After successful completion of this exam, the individual will be eligible to be a Registered Occupational Therapist (OTR). In addition, all states require licensure to practice; however, state licenses are usually based on the results of the NBCOT certification examination. A felony conviction may affect the graduate's ability to sit for the NBCOT Certification Examination or attain state licensure.

Those who are selected will be notified of the due date of the video essay by the Office of Admissions.

Notice of Acceptance

Notice of acceptance will be on a rolling, or periodic, schedule. Early completion of the application process is in the best interest of the student. After acceptance, official transcripts from the registrars of all colleges and universities attended must be submitted electronically or mailed directly by the college or university.

Students are provisionally admitted to a degree-seeking program based on a review of unofficial transcripts or other specific program admission requirements. However, this admission includes a condition that final and official transcripts, documents, and requirements must be received within 90 calendar days from matriculation. If these final and official transcripts, documents, and/or requirements are not received by that time, the student will not be allowed to continue class attendance. Financial aid will not be disbursed to a provisional/conditional student until he or she has been fully admitted as a regular student (all admissions requirements have been approved by the college/program admissions office). Students who have an unpaid balance 30 days from the start of the term will be assessed a $100 late fee.

Entry-Level O.T.D. Tuition and Fees

Tuition for 2019–2020 will be posted on our website (nova.edu/chcs/ot/otd/index.html). A Health Professions Division general access fee of $145 is required each year. An NSU student services fee of $1,050 is also required annually. All tuition and fees are subject to change by the board of trustees without notice.

Acceptance Fee—$400. This fee is required to reserve the accepted applicant's place in the entering first-year class. This advance payment will be deducted from the tuition payment due on registration day, but is not refundable in the event of a withdrawal. It is payable within two weeks of an applicant's acceptance.

Preregistration Fee—$600. This is due eight weeks after acceptance or by April 15, whichever comes first, under the same terms as the Acceptance Fee.

The first semester's tuition and fees, less the $1,000 previously paid, are due on or before registration day. Tuition for each subsequent semester is due on or before the appropriate registration day. Students will not be admitted until their financial obligations have been met.

The financial ability of applicants to complete their education at NSU is important because of the limited number of positions available in each class. Applicants should have specific plans for financing three years and one semester of professional education. This should include tuition, living expenses (including travel, lodging, and living expenses during Level I and II fieldwork and residency), books, equipment, and miscellaneous expenses.

It is required that each student carry adequate personal medical and hospital insurance. Students may avail themselves of the hospitalization insurance plan obtainable through the university.

Expenses and Financial Aid

Entry-level students should anticipate spending $2,000 per year for books. In addition, students should anticipate spending approximately $13,000 for living expenses and the cost of lodging, food, and local travel for the on-campus institutes for a 12-month academic year.

The primary financial responsibility for a student's education rests with the student and his or her family. Economic circumstances for some families may make it necessary for the student to obtain assistance from other sources.

The Office of Student Financial Assistance at NSU is there to help as many qualified students as possible to complete their health professions education. Various loans, scholarships, and grants are available to qualified students to help ease the high cost of a health professions education. These financial assistance programs are described on our website (nova.edu/financialaid).

City of Tampa, Florida

Welcome to Tampa Bay. Situated along Florida's Gulf Coast, this region boasts an enviable quality of life with year-round sunshine, a unique cultural heritage, and a diverse business climate. For individuals and companies alike, Tampa offers accessibility, affordability, and opportunity.

Tampa is the hub of Hillsborough County and one of the largest metropolitan areas in the Southeast. The four-county metropolitan statistical area of Hillsborough, Pinellas, Pasco, and Hernando counties has a population of 2.7 million, making it the 19th-largest metropolitan, statistical area in the United States. We boast a diverse and expanding mix of businesses, from financial services and bioscience to technology and international trade. As the economy begins to kick back into gear, the Tampa Bay region is looking to a bright future of continued job creation. This will be particularly true of the industry clusters that make Tampa the gateway to Florida's High Tech Corridor (including life sciences, nanotechnology, aviation/aerospace, and homeland security/defense).

Newcomers to the region will be delighted to discover a vibrant arts community alive with contemporary art and a deep respect for our unique cultural heritage. In February 2010, Tampa celebrated the opening of the Tampa Museum of Art's new facility along the Hillsborough River in downtown Tampa. The museum is located in the Curtis Hixon Downtown Waterfront Park, which is also home to the Glazer Children's Museum. Besides enjoying Tampa Bay's beautiful beaches, millions of people experience Busch Gardens annually, and the Lowry Park Zoo is ranked as the number one Family Friendly Zoo in the country. Other major attractions include the outstanding Florida Aquarium, the Museum of Science and Industry, and the Big Cat Rescue.

Sports and Tampa Bay are an unbeatable combination. Professional sports teams keep spectators on their feet with championship runs, while perfect weather and a pristine physical environment make Tampa Bay an outdoor enthusiast's paradise. Tampa has very active professional sports teams, including the NFL's Tampa Bay Buccaneers, MLB's Tampa Bay Rays, and the NHL Tampa Bay Lightning. The New York Yankees call Tampa their home for spring training, while the University of South Florida Bulls and University of Tampa Spartans provide multiple NCAA sports for the area.

Tampa Bay enjoys an average temperature of 73 degrees Fahrenheit and holds the record for the most consecutive days of sunshine—768 to be exact. This tropical climate makes Tampa a great place to play. From canoeing the scenic Hillsborough River to biking or jogging alongside the bay, Tampa has something for everyone. Fish from a pier or charter a deep-sea fishing boat. Play at one of Tampa's dozens of beautiful golf courses year-round. Enjoy a walk on the beach at sunset. The opportunities for physical activity are endless.
