1989

Master's Program for Child Care Administrators-
Specializing in Family Support Studies 1989

Nova University

Follow this and additional works at: https://nsuworks.nova.edu/abe_pgcoursecatalogs

Part of the Education Commons

NSUWorks Citation

https://nsuworks.nova.edu/abe_pgcoursecatalogs/443

This Mailer is brought to you for free and open access by the NSU Course Catalogs and Course Descriptions at NSUWorks. It has been accepted for inclusion in Fischler Postgraduate Course Catalogs by an authorized administrator of NSUWorks. For more information, please contact nsuworks@nova.edu.
Nova University, in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, is an independent, nonprofit institution that is not tax-supported. It offers courses of study leading to bachelor's, master's, educational specialist, and doctoral degrees on its main campus, throughout the State of Florida, and across the nation. Nova also provides community services and conducts research in a variety of fields.

Nova University is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award bachelor's, master's, educational specialist, and doctoral degrees. Nova University admits students of any race, color, and national or ethnic origin.

Nova University is located in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, and is one of the leading universities in the nation.

Nova University offers a Master's Program for Child Care Administrators with a Specialization in Family Support Studies.
Nova University's Master's Program for Child Care Administrators with a specialization in Family Support Studies is designed to meet the needs of persons working with young children and their families.

The program provides you with a field-based, guided study format and a chance to use your work environment as a learning laboratory.

In Nova University's Master's Program for Child Care Administrators with a specialization in Family Support Studies you can receive the training you want without leaving your job. You work within each study area using study guides specially designed by Nova faculty and nationally-recognized experts in each field. The guides integrate the texts and articles sent to you at the beginning of each set of courses. Nova faculty remain in constant contact with you through regular telephone conferences and detailed analyses of your assignments.

Assignments and projects are directly related to your ongoing career responsibilities. At a week-long annual institute held in July in Fort Lauderdale, you will work with fellow students, Nova faculty, and leading national figures in early childhood and family support programs. Your studies will cover Human Development, Family Systems, Parenting Studies, Program Models, Policy and Politics, and Evaluation and Administration of Family Support Programs. You will have an opportunity to apply what you have learned in a Practicum, in which you identify a problem in your setting and develop and implement a solution to the problem. You will share your progress through the program with your cohort of other students entering at the same time. You will meet with these students at the summer institute and opportunities for joint problem solving will be provided. The 40 semester hour program is designed to be completed in two years.

Nova University is a leader in the adaptation of computer technology to the needs of graduate students who live and work at a distance from the main campus. Those of you with access to microcomputers can send your assignments and receive detailed faculty responses by electronic mail through Nova's computer-based network. This method of communication is used as an adjunct to the regularly scheduled telephone conferences. Although some students avail themselves of this opportunity, ownership or use of microcomputer equipment is not a requirement for program matriculation.

Admission

Admission is open to persons who:
1. Have a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited institution,
2. Are presently working in a program for young children and their families,
3. Provide evidence of ability for successful independent study at the graduate level.

Degree

Master of Science in Child Care Administration with a specialization in Family Support Studies.

Cost

The current tuition rate for the 40 credit hour program is $165 per credit. Each of the four modules of study requires a $200 materials fee. The materials fee for the practicum is $75. The total cost of the program is $7,475, which includes tuition and all texts, study guides, and supporting curriculum materials.

Information

For immediate information call 1-800-541-NOVA(Ext. 7457) or Collect (305) 475-7457.