ACCREDITATION

Nova Southeastern University is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award bachelor’s, master’s, educational specialist, and doctoral degrees. Nova Southeastern University admits students of any race, color, sex, age, nondisqualifying handicap, religion or creed, or national or ethnic origin.

After its most recent review, Nova Southeastern’s accreditation was reaffirmed for a ten-year term. Nova Southeastern University is licensed to operate programs in 25 of the 50 states and is alma mater to more than 33,000 graduates. Graduates reside in all 50 states and in 35 foreign countries.

Accreditation by a regional accrediting agency provides nationwide accreditation. Licensure to provide instruction in specific states is a state-regulated process. Each state establishes procedures for acquiring site licensure, including review by the higher education authority of each state. Thus, Nova Southeastern’s programs meet not only the academic requirements of SACS, but also the unique requirements of each state in which instruction is provided.

In addition to SACS accreditation, Nova Southeastern’s Law School is accredited by the American Bar Association, the Clinical Psychology programs are accredited by the American Psychological Association, and the Master’s Program in Speech-Language Pathology is accredited by the Educational Standards Board of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association. The Fischler Center for the Advancement of Education (graduate school of education) is a member of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education and the Council of Great City Colleges of Education.
PROGRAM DESIGN
The National Ed.D. Program for Educational Leaders is a field-based doctoral program for practicing administrators of pre-kindergarten through 12th grade institutions and adult vocational settings. The purpose of the program is to improve the nation’s schools by improving the leadership skills of school and school system-based administrators. Our program enables Dade County participants to apply research and knowledge to solve problems in their educational settings while pursuing their career goals.

STUDY AREAS
Study areas provide participants with conceptual resources and information to improve schools and school systems. Study areas are led by nationally recognized scholars and practitioners, the finest in their respective fields. National lecturers travel to cluster sites for the study-area lectures. Participants meet for each of the nine study areas for three months of formal instruction.

Study areas include:
- Appraising Leadership in Education
- Curriculum Development
- Education Policy Systems
- Evaluation
- Human Resource Development
- Management and Supervision
- Practicum Research
- Research for School Improvement
- School Finance and Budgeting

Emphasis is on urban schools and their vital links to the diverse community.

THE PRACTICUM
Following the successful completion of Practicum Research, a participant develops a concept paper based on his/her assignments, experiences, and readings from that study area. The concept paper creates the conceptual framework for the Practicum. The Practicum is an applied research project that takes the form of a school improvement plan. The project begins with a proposal, proceeds through implementation, and culminates in a final report. The Practicum evolves from a specific Dade County educational setting, creates a valued change, provides for planned leadership growth, demonstrates doctoral-level conceptualization and writing, and contributes to the knowledge base of education. The participant is guided through the practicum process by a committee of three professional educators.

SUMMER INSTITUTES
Participants are required to attend two Summer Institutes. The institutes are national academic conferences that carry course credit. The conferences bring together participants, cluster coordinators, national lecturers, advisors, program office staff members, and other nationally known educators and politicians. Summer Institutes provide opportunities for cooperative teaching and learning. There is also time for reflection and interaction about current issues of national concern to Dade County educational leaders. Summer Institute expenses are participants’ responsibility.

CLUSTER LOCATION
The Dade County cluster will meet monthly at Nova Southeastern campus and appropriate Dade County school sites. Minimum number of participants to begin the Dade County cluster is 22.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS
- Presently employed in a Dade County administrative position
