

October 2019

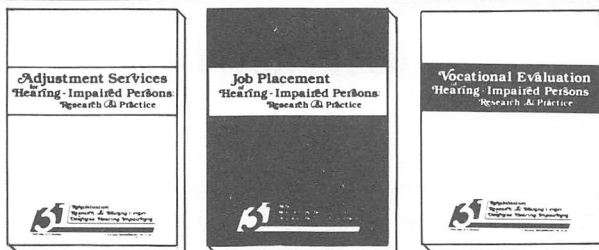

New Rehabilitating Monographs

None None
None

Follow this and additional works at: <https://repository.wcsu.edu/jadara>

Recommended Citation

None, N. (2019). New Rehabilitating Monographs. JADARA, 17(2). Retrieved from <https://repository.wcsu.edu/jadara/vol17/iss2/7>

NEW REHABILITATION MONOGRAPHS Now Available From the National Association Of The Deaf

Three exciting new monographs from the University of Arkansas Rehabilitation Research and Training Center on Deafness and Hearing Impairment are now available through the National Association of the Deaf Bookstore. They focus on the conceptual issues, service strategies, current state of the art, and include recommendations for further research and practice.

The Three Monographs Are: Adjustment Services for Hearing Impaired Persons
Job Placement of Hearing Impaired Persons
Vocational Evaluation of Hearing Impaired Persons

ADJUSTMENT SERVICES FOR HEARING PERSONS—The papers presented in this monograph offer an overview of current practices and future directions in the provision of adjustment services to deaf people. They address the nature and scope of adjustment services and highlight some adjustment training interventions.

JOB PLACEMENT OF HEARING IMPAIRED PERSONS—This monograph provides a brief overview of the context of research and practice in placement services for deaf people by providing a discussion of the implications of the changing labor market and highlights some of the rehabilitative interventions that are being used to enhance placement of deaf persons.

VOCATIONAL EVALUATION OF HEARING IMPAIRED PERSONS—This monograph provides the reader with an overview of assessment and how it is conducted with deaf individuals at various levels of functioning from the severely disabled individual to the college level deaf student. The papers present selected program models found to be effective in the vocational evaluation approaches currently employed with deaf clients.

These monographs are available for $4⁹⁵ each or $10⁰⁰ for the set of three plus $1⁵⁰ for postage and handling.

Please make checks payable to NAD.

Please send your orders to: NAD Bookstore
814 Thayer Avenue
Silver Spring, Maryland 20910
