

September 2019

Northern Illinois University Handout

none none
none

Follow this and additional works at: <https://repository.wcsu.edu/jadara>

Recommended Citation

none, n. (2019). Northern Illinois University Handout. JADARA, 22(3). Retrieved from <https://repository.wcsu.edu/jadara/vol22/iss3/10>

Northern Illinois University

Graduate Study in Deafness Rehabilitation Counseling

- History of successful training and placement of graduates
- Program fully accredited by the Council on Rehabilitation Education
- Specialized course work in deafness, rehabilitation, and counseling
- Continuous field work opportunities in schools, clinics, and rehabilitation facilities throughout the graduate program
- On-campus pre-vocational program for young hearing-impaired adults and proximity to Chicago rehabilitation centers and deaf population
- Interdisciplinary focus with special interest in family therapy and hearing-impairment
- Financial assistance available; qualified minority and disabled students are encouraged to apply

For further information, contact:

Sue E. Ouellette, Ph.D., Coordinator
Deafness Rehabilitation Counseling
Department of Communicative Disorders
Northern Illinois University
DeKalb, Illinois 60115-2899

(815) 753-1484 (Voice)
(815) 753-6520 (TDD)

