The Four Forces of Nature

By Brena Bergman

Wind whistling and whispering through windows,
Breeze billowing and blowing blankets around on the beach,
Zephyr zipping past zebras at the zoo,
This is one of the four forces of nature.

Flames flickering and flowing freely in a fire,
Blaze brewing in Brazil making the sky black,
Heat-harming and hurting humans and habitats,
This is one of the four forces of nature.

Water falling in West Wyoming,
Brook bringing bass to bears in Bozeman,
Stream starting to send salmon south swiftly and slowly,
This is one of the four forces of nature.

Soil settling in a stream,
Gravel gathering in a pot of green grass,
Terrain toppling and tumbling due to the terrible tornado,
This is one of the four forces of nature.
