NOTICE TO ALL DAY-DIVISION STUDENTS: Learning to write well is a demanding but satisfying task. At some point in the process almost everyone finds they can use a little advice, some help, or some guided practice. The Writing Lab (room 236 of the Parker Building) is the place to seek out that advice, help, and practice that will increase your ability to perform successfully at the college level. The Writing Lab is open Monday to Friday, at the hours listed below, to all Day Program students. You may use the lab for any writing problem for any writing assignment for any course. There is no charge for the materials and time provided by the Writing Lab staff. Work done in the Writing Lab is not graded. Please note that the Writing Lab staff is not there to write or proofread your assignments for you. The staff is there to help you evaluate your work, recognize writing skills you need to improve, and guide you as you practice these skills. Please make use of this valuable service.

BULLETIN: Now that each of you have had a chance to get settled, meet your new instructors and get a feel for how you are doing in each of your courses, the college will hold a Schedule Change/Confirmation Period. The purpose of change/confirmation is to provide you and your advisor an opportunity to meet and review your progress thus far and to either confirm your present schedule for the semester or make modifications in your classes for the second eight-week term (October-December). All students must make arrangements to see their academic advisor between September 26 and October 10.

ATTENTION: Do you want to buy or sell something? Now you can advertise in the Nova Knight Newsletter! Let your fellow students, staff, and faculty read your ads and respond.
