SEMINARS AND WORKSHOPS

Refer to Course Descriptions for more detailed information.

SEMINARS

Seminars are 2 or 3 credit writing courses that can be used to satisfy the upperclass writing requirement. Seminars are limited to 20 students and are taught by full-time faculty members in their areas of expertise. Students enrolled in seminars prepare research papers for their grade; a C+ or better is required to satisfy the writing requirement. Faculty can admit 2 students by Instructor's Permission rather than through the normal registration process.

WORKSHOPS

Workshops are 2 or 3 credit lawyering skills courses. Workshops are limited to 20 students (24 when a faculty member requests the larger number). They can be taught by full-time or adjunct faculty members in their areas of expertise. Students enrolled in workshops perform various lawyering skills—for example, drafting documents and negotiating agreements for their grade. Workshops do not satisfy the writing requirement. Full-time faculty members (but not adjuncts) can admit 2 students by Instructor's Permission rather than through the normal registration process.
