What’s New At Nova? Lots Of Things...

Law School

The new Law School Board of Governors, chaired by Ray Ferrero, Esq., of the firm Ferrero, Maldonado & Snell of Fort Lauderdale, comprises prominent civic and professional leaders of the Dade-Broward, Palm Beach community, actively committed to helping "promote, expand and enhance the further development of Nova University and its School of Law."1

One of the board’s tasks will be to advise on how best to use the interest on the $3 million endowment allocated to the Law School by Nova University. The recently retired $1.6 million Leo Goldshen St. Unicefund.

The University’s Board of Trustees has designated the interest on $1 million to be used for professorships, scholarships and student loans. A portion of this fund has been earmarked for "Distinguished Professorships," the first of which is Dr. Justice Arthur I. Goldberg, who will arrive at the University in August of this year.

Interest on the next $2 million is being set aside toward the purchase of the new Law School building at 3100 SW 9th Ave., Ft. Lauderdale, now being leased from Olympia and York in ten years. The remainder will be used for law-related curricular programs, the purchase of special law library materials, and anything else the Law School might need to "maintain optimum standards."2

The new Law School facility, as it is compared to its former temporary quarters in the Parker dormitory of Nova’s Fort Lauderdale campus, is still not large enough to house a law library with the 23,000 volumes the Law School currently enjoys.

Corporative Programs

In response to requests from industry in Broward County, Nova College has developed a new corporate unit which will be directed by Dr. Donald M. Burke, Bachelor degree programs in Electrical Engineering, Electronic Technology, Computer Science, and Mathematics, and Corporate programs in Business. The Advanced Electronics and Computer Science have been developed. Classes in these programs will begin in March.

The programs are structured in such a way that the student does not have to decide his or her major within these areas at the beginning of the program. The concept of a second Bachelor degree for those who now feel the need of technical and business and management skills also is being stressed. Classes will meet both on the main campus and at industrial sites in seven-week cycles. The second cycle will begin May 6th.

Opportunities will be provided for students to test out of specific courses using written, oral and/or laboratory demonstrations so that they may validate on-thejob learning experiences.

Who are all these lovely ladies, and why do they look so happy?

See page 4.

Administration

On Feb. 1, a new Center for the Study of Administration was formed, incorporating the Public Affairs programs, Criminal Justice, Graduate Management, the Governmental Agencies, Service, and certain Computer Science Management programs. The Center will maintain close ties with the National Ed.D. Program for Ed. Leaders, the Law Center and the Office of New Programs.

Dr. John M. Clarke, Director of the Center, asserts that he is committed to the exploration and use of improved delivery systems, the application of diagnostic methods to the planning of Business and Public Management, and the improvement of course content and faculty. The Center will retain the national character of the DPA programs and pursue new developmental approaches and closer ties with the business community and needs of South Florida.

Dr. David Britt is the Associate Director of CSA with primary responsibility for the DPA and the Criminal Justice programs. Jane Whitney is the Assistant Program Director for the DPA program, although she will be teaching in both Public Affairs and Business.

Dr. Martin Velasquez will head the DBA program. Margaret Shannon, (Continued on Page 4)

Career Fair Planned

Nova University will again be represented at the annual Fort Lauderdale Career Fair, a recruitment program sponsored by the city of Ft. Lauderdale and most of the local law enforcement agencies and institutions in Broward County. High school graduates and college students from across the county, vacationing in South Florida during their Easter break, are expected to come to find out about employment and educational opportunities in this area.

The Fair will take place on Monday and Tuesday, March 3 and April 1, at the Swimming Hall of Fame on Fort Lauderdale Beach, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nova faculty, students and alumni are invited — urged — to volunteer their services to sell the Nova booth.

Call Rose Ann Schacter at 475-8500 ext. 235 to reserve a time.

You’re Invited

Members of the Nova family (faculty, staff, students, alumni, and community support groups) are invited to view the exhibit library, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. The reception is in honor of all Nova alumni who are exhibiting in this year’s “Arts of Spring.”

The public is invited to view the exhibit Saturday, March 29, from 1 to 4 p.m.

Education

By Dr. Richard Goldman, Director

The newly organized Center for the Advancement of Education (CAE) is dedicated to the training of educational administrators, practitioners, and trainers and others working to establish centers which serve as the bridge between the knowledge base in education and the capability of educators who work in the real world.

Dr. Goldman will be involved in offering educational delivery systems which is designed to meet the needs of the working practitioner, particularly in areas where few resources for training and professional support currently exist.

Because of its commitment to the working professional, CAE will offer alternative educational delivery systems which are adaptable to the practitioner’s work schedules and locations, and aid professional educators in achieving their personal goals, including certification requirements.

(Continued on Page 4)

Poli-Sci

Nova College is introducing a new and strengthened major in Political Science for the Spring/Summer trimester (replacing the current major in Politics and Public Affairs). The new curriculum has ten required core courses and a choice of two specialties: Pre-Law and Political Science.

The Pre-Law specialty was designed on the advice of a number of law schools including Nova’s. The curriculum includes not only Political Science but also Economics, Business, Philosophy and a variety of Liberal Arts courses to enable the prospective law student to excel in his or her profession.

The Political Science specialty, consisting of five semester-level courses in that subject area, will put Nova College on an academic level with the leading universities in the nation. The curriculum combines classical and modern theories of behavior, and includes a wide range of new courses.

For further information, call Dr. Richard Haillard at 475-8800 ext. 226.

BULLETIN BOARD

Career Fair Planned

Enrich Yourself

This year’s annual community courses will be offered during the Spring trimester at Nova’s campus beginning March 29.

“Parenting Today” by Dennis Oster, is given on six Tuesday evenings, from 8:15 to 10:15 p.m., March 19 – April 22. “Divorce and the Single Life,” taught by Dr. Pat Neiswanger, will be on six Thursday evenings, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., March 19 – April 22. And “Nova I” taught by Marshall Schwartz, will be on six Thursday evening classes from 9 p.m. to 11 p.m., March 21 – April 11.

Call 475-8500 ext. 295 for reservations.

Science and Mathematics

Prof. Edward Allen and Mrs. Sylvia Schott, directors of the famed Pantry Finger Factory, will be working with the Center for the Advancement of Education in two intensive five-day courses to be offered in the series on systems and methods for training and professional development which will be advertised in the upcoming spring semester.

For further information on this new creative way to teach call, the CAE at 475-8300 ext. 295 (on Broward) or 557-3511 (in Palm Beach), 941-9210 (on Dade) or 1-800-345-1779 (anywhere in Florida)

Pre-Law Fairs

Everything you ever wanted to know about going to law school but didn’t know who to ask...all those questions will be answered at a series of two pre-law day fairs at Nova Law Center, Friday, March 7, at 4 p.m. and Thursday, March 27 and April 3.

Dr. June Drake, Professor of Law, will speak on international business transactions. For further information call Roland C. Groff, CLE Director, Nova University Law Center, (305) 522-2301. (Registration limited to 55)

Legal Seminar

Nova University Law Center’s Second Comparative Legal Seminar (United Kingdom – United States) has been set for February 28 through August 8, at Marino College, Oxford, England.

The Dean of the Exeter College of Law has arranged a day long program using his faculty in presenting the court systems of the United Kingdom. Ronald H. Maudlin, Director of the Oxford Institute for the American Bar, will speak on international estate planning. Phillip G. Fisk, Dean of the Vermont College of Law, will speak on the comparison criminal system; and Dr. Le, Notre Dame Professor of Law, will speak on international business transactions.

For further information call Roland C. Groff, CLE Director, Nova University Law Center, (305) 522-2301. (Registration limited to 55)

Who are all these lovely ladies, and why do they look so happy?

See page 4.
The Practicum program, which is part of the Education and Development Program in Early Childhood Education at Nova Southeastern University, is a direct result of new programs in Vacation Enterprises, Inc. These programs have been designed to provide opportunities for clinical internships and other experiences that allow students to develop excellent research skills, and give them opportunities for good practical training. The wide variety of clinicals have here. We're very pleased, and very proud.

BSC Gets CETA Contracts

The Behavioral Sciences Center has been awarded two research and development contracts for a multi-image control system in Employment and Training Council, Florida State University, and Labor and Employment Security. The grant applications were initiated by Dr. John Flynn, Center Director, in cooperation with Dr. Normas Schoeckman, a consultant on manpower development. The project will provide technical assistance to state prime sponsors under the alternative Employment Training Act (CETA) in developing and implementing successful employment and training programs. Anticipated activities include establishing a data base of information disseminating information about older workers in programs in other states, conducting statewide workshops, and providing technical assistance to prime sponsors.

The second contract is for the establishment of a Minor Vocational Academy for disadvantaged persons. The Vocational Academy would like the resources of private employers with those of educational institutions and retiree sponsors. Through the projects, industry would develop excellent research skills, and give them opportunities for good practical training. The wide variety of clinicals have here. We're very pleased, and very proud.

Conference On Aging

"Enhancing the Quality of Life in the Later Years" was the theme of the Second Annual Behavioral Conference on Aging sponsored by Nova Southeastern University's Behavioral Science Center, 23-26, at the Galt Ocean Mile Hotel, Fort Lauderdale.

Newly recognized authorities in Gerontology, Psychology, the Social Sciences, Mediation, Architecture, Planning, and Counseling shared their current research findings and opinions, and discussed their implications for future policy development in gerontology and the delivery and training of mental health practice professionals.

The conference was by subscription, but Friday afternoon's program was free and open to the public. There were workshops to community organizations and agencies, dealing with problems of the aged, and a program, according to Betty B. Badger, President of the American Association of Retired Persons, that everyone can share your pride accomplishments.

Please notify the NACCHO if you charge your name to Nova Southeastern's Community or Program area or you have been charged any charges.

Nova News is a publication of the Nova Southeastern University and is distributed free to students and faculty. You may also request your name to Nova Southeastern and it is distributed free to students and faculty.

"Looking for a job-related project implemented as a direct result of new programs in Vacation Enterprises, Inc. have agreed to work with Nova's National Ed.D. Program for Educational Leaders "to recognize outstanding professional achievement and to cultivate new leaders for the education needs of our children.""

Jim Edwards is the director of the program for Educational Leaders to recognize outstanding professional achievement and to cultivate new leaders for the education needs of our children. "Jim Edwards is the director of the program for Educational Leaders "to recognize outstanding professional achievement and to cultivate new leaders for the education needs of our children.""

Jim Edwards is the director of the program for Educational Leaders "to recognize outstanding professional achievement and to cultivate new leaders for the education needs of our children.""

Jim Edwards is the director of the program for Educational Leaders "to recognize outstanding professional achievement and to cultivate new leaders for the education needs of our children.""
Alumni Represent Nova

REGION I

The Independent Colleges and Universities of Washington, Pennsylvania, and New York, issued a call to the undergraduate education community to elect Presidents and other officers for the new academic year.

REGION II

Alumni of Nova University, College Avenue, Fort Lauderdale, Florida, are invited to attend the Alumni Reunion on Saturday, July 26, 1980, the evening of the Alumni Reunion. Reunion-covered persons include the following:

The Metropolitan Washington Area Alumni (Regional II) met on Wednesday, February 24, 1980, to elect officers for the upcoming year. The speaker was Philip Rutledge, President of the National Institute of Public Management, and national president of AIP, former chairman of Public Administration at Howard, and former Assistant Secretary, Department of Labor.

Novak Grad Makes School "Exemptary"

The Georgia Educational Improvements Commission declared "Exemptary" for significant improvement in student achievement, and comprehensive instructional programs in the state.

Three of the five school systems have Novak graduates in key positions.

Reunion Planned

An Alumni Commencement Dinner and Dance will be held at the St. Andrews Country Club on Saturday, July 26, 1980, the evening of the Alumni Reunion. Reunion-covered persons include the following:

The Metropolitan Washington Area Alumni (Regional II) met on Wednesday, February 24, 1980, to elect officers for the upcoming year. The speaker was Philip Rutledge, President of the National Institute of Public Management, and national president of AIP, former chairman of Public Administration at Howard, and former Assistant Secretary, Department of Labor.

Novak Grad Makes School "Exemptary"

The Georgia Educational Improvements Commission declared "Exemptary" for significant improvement in student achievement, and comprehensive instructional programs in the state.

Three of the five school systems have Novak graduates in key positions.

Reunion Planned

An Alumni Commencement Dinner and Dance will be held at the St. Andrews Country Club on Saturday, July 26, 1980, the evening of the Alumni Reunion. Reunion-covered persons include the following:

The Metropolitan Washington Area Alumni (Regional II) met on Wednesday, February 24, 1980, to elect officers for the upcoming year. The speaker was Philip Rutledge, President of the National Institute of Public Management, and national president of AIP, former chairman of Public Administration at Howard, and former Assistant Secretary, Department of Labor.

Novak Grad Makes School "Exemptary"

The Georgia Educational Improvements Commission declared "Exemptary" for significant improvement in student achievement, and comprehensive instructional programs in the state.

Three of the five school systems have Novak graduates in key positions.
Happiness is Planning The Derby Ball

Planning a splendid event can be almost as much fun as being there as a group of 55 ladies discovered to their delight at a recent luncheon at the Tower Club, arranged to plan for the upcoming Florida Derby.

The Ball, which takes place March 27 at Turnberry Isle Country Club at Aventura, offered by the Schultz and Perlmutter Committee, will feature the specialties can be constructively built.

Happiness starts with a good menu; Mr. and Mrs. Harsen Smith, Jr. The specialties can be constructively

Last year's Hops and Homespun theme will be repeated this year. The menu was selected by Mrs. Harsen Smith. The Music; Mr. and Mrs. Harsen Smith, Jr. The specialties can be constructively

THERE IS A PLACE FOR EVERYTHING IN THE CENTER

The theme this year is "The United States of the United States of America." The menu will include dishes from various regions of the United States. The specialty of the evening will be the "American Cookbook," which will feature a variety of traditional American dishes.

The ball will be held in a ballroom that has been specially decorated to reflect the theme of the evening. The decorations will include American flags, historical photos, and patriotic symbols.

Privately owned by Mrs.Roy D. Smith, Jr. and Mrs. James (Mary Adda)

With the success of last year's event, the committee is excited to bring this special evening to the community. The Hops and Homespun theme is sure to be a hit once again, offering a unique and enjoyable experience for all guests.

The proceeds from the event will support the work of the Center for Social Development. The Center is dedicated to improving the lives of individuals and families in our community through education, support, and advocacy.

The Center is always looking for new ways to raise funds to support its mission. This event is a great opportunity to support the Center while enjoying a night out with friends or family.

The Ball is open to the public and tickets are on sale now. Tickets can be purchased online or at the Center's office. For more information, please visit the Center's website or contact the committee directly.

The Center thanks everyone who has contributed to the success of the Hops and Homespun theme and looks forward to seeing everyone at the event this year.