9-1-1982

Nova News, August-September 1982

Nova University

Follow this and additional works at: https://nsuworks.nova.edu/nsudigital_novanews

NSUWorks Citation

https://nsuworks.nova.edu/nsudigital_novanews/89

This Newsletter is brought to you for free and open access by the NSU Early Publications at NSUWorks. It has been accepted for inclusion in Nova News by an authorized administrator of NSUWorks. For more information, please contact nsuworks@nova.edu.
For the third consecutive year, Nova University announces its rostrum of national and international speakers coming to the Executive Council Breakfast Forum.

The purpose of the Forum is to provide business, industrial, and civic leaders of South Florida an opportunity to hear nationally recognized speakers and to participate in discussions of current issues in politics, the economy, energy, defense and international affairs.

Last year, the Wednesday Luncheon Forum was created and continues this year after an astounding success in the 1981-82 season.

Both series meet at Stouffer's Anacapri Inn, 1901 N. Federal Highway, Fort Lauderdale. Breakfast Forums are held on Wednesday mornings. Breakfast is served beginning at 7:30 am. Speaker begins at 8 am. The program concludes at 9 am. At Luncheon Forums lunch is served at 12:30 pm. Speaker begins at 1 pm. Membership fee is $100. for each series. The membership fee covers attendance at Forums in each series, as well as breakfast or lunch. For further information, call 475-7406.
Dr. John Flynn, Director of the Behavioral Sciences Center, has announced that the PhD. in Clinical Psychology, begun at Nova in 1972, has officially received accreditation from the American Psychological Association. The clinical psychology program leading to the Doctor of Philosophy degree is behavioral in orientation and adheres firmly to the principle that psychology is an empirically based discipline. The program is research oriented and primarily oriented toward training scientists and academicians.

Accreditation by the American Psychological Association is the recognition of excellence in a psychology program. "The faculty of the PhD. program have been in the process of working toward APA approval for a number of years," says Dr. Flynn. "Getting it is the result of a long, well-planned process. We have felt that we were making very strong progress for a number of years and this outcome is very gratifying," he added.

Moreover, Flynn is quick to add, "The process must still continue. We still have to work to improve the program... it needs our continued support."

Particular needs included the library and improved on-campus clinic training facilities. Outstanding faculty must be maintained.

Dr. Flynn points out that immediate benefits to PhD. students as a result of APA approval are that it opens up a number of additional internships and makes students eligible for more financial support and stipends. There will be more employment opportunities.

Dr. Glenn Caddy, Director of the PhD. program, said, "I'm really pleased and gratified that the development of programs over the last several years have finally resulted in the national professional recognition that I believe the program deserves. The students are very, very happy that their program now has received the national recognition that it justly deserves."

Caddy reiterated Flynn when he stressed, "Now there is an added responsibility to maintain the quality of education for clinical doctoral students that we have developed."

A final note was added by President Fischer, who was the first Director of the Behavioral Sciences Center. "I would like to congratulate the Faculty and Dr. Flynn for meeting the standards for the APA accreditation," he said.

Dr. A. Eugene Shapiro, left, Associate Director for Development and Special Programs, Behavioral Sciences Center is seen here in Washington, D.C. with Senator Lawton Chiles. Dr. Shapiro was in the Capital City recently with a Nova contingency working for student benefits and a mental health Training and Research grant.

Nova College Basketball Begins

For the first time since its opening, Nova College will have a basketball team, under the direction of Coach Sonny Hansley. The new Division 2 team will play 22 games, 21 against Florida schools such as FIU, Biscayne, Rollins, and Eckerd, and one against a Georgia college. Although the decision to form the team was made rather late, Coach Hansley looks ahead with optimism.

Conditioning and semi-tryouts will start with the opening of school. Official practices are scheduled to begin on October 15 at either the University School Gym or Lutheran High School. November 28 is the date of the first game against FIU. Lutheran High School will host all home games. Coach Hansley gave a small preview of the upcoming season with a few of Nova's "hopefuls." Two brothers from Ohio, Steve Meadows, 6'10", a junior, and his freshman brother Jeff, 6'8", are expected to perform well. Other talented recruits are Kurt Colberg, 6'3", a junior transfer student from Georgia and freshman Tim Kelly, a graduate of Cardinal Gibbons High School, Fort Lauderdale.

Dr. John Flynn, Director of the Behavioral Sciences Center, has announced that the PhD. in Clinical Psychology, begun at Nova in 1972, has officially received accreditation from the American Psychological Association.

The clinical psychology program leading to the Doctor of Philosophy degree is behavioral in orientation and adheres firmly to the principle that psychology is an empirically based discipline. The program is research oriented and primarily oriented toward training scientists and academicians. Accreditation by the American Psychological Association is the recognition of excellence in a psychology program. "The faculty of the PhD. program have been in the process of working toward APA approval for a number of years," says Dr. Flynn. "Getting it is the result of a long, well-planned process. We have felt that we were making very strong progress for a number of years and this outcome is very gratifying," he added.

Moreover, Flynn is quick to add, "The process must still continue. We still have to work to improve the program... it needs our continued support."

Particular needs included the library and improved on-campus clinic training facilities. Outstanding faculty must be maintained.

Dr. Flynn points out that immediate benefits to PhD. students as a result of APA approval are that it opens up a number of additional internships and makes students eligible for more financial support and stipends. There will be more employment opportunities.

Dr. Glenn Caddy, Director of the PhD. program, said, "I'm really pleased and gratified that the development of programs over the last several years have finally resulted in the national professional recognition that I believe the program deserves. The students are very, very happy that their program now has received the national recognition that it justly deserves."

Caddy reiterated Flynn when he stressed, "Now there is an added responsibility to maintain the quality of education for clinical doctoral students that we have developed."

A final note was added by President Fischer, who was the first Director of the Behavioral Sciences Center. "I would like to congratulate the Faculty and Dr. Flynn for meeting the standards for the APA accreditation," he said.

Dr. John Flynn, Director of the Behavioral Sciences Center, has announced that the PhD. in Clinical Psychology, begun at Nova in 1972, has officially received accreditation from the American Psychological Association.

The clinical psychology program leading to the Doctor of Philosophy degree is behavioral in orientation and adheres firmly to the principle that psychology is an empirically based discipline. The program is research oriented and primarily oriented toward training scientists and academicians. Accreditation by the American Psychological Association is the recognition of excellence in a psychology program. "The faculty of the PhD. program have been in the process of working toward APA approval for a number of years," says Dr. Flynn. "Getting it is the result of a long, well-planned process. We have felt that we were making very strong progress for a number of years and this outcome is very gratifying," he added.

Moreover, Flynn is quick to add, "The process must still continue. We still have to work to improve the program... it needs our continued support."

Particular needs included the library and improved on-campus clinic training facilities. Outstanding faculty must be maintained.

Dr. Flynn points out that immediate benefits to PhD. students as a result of APA approval are that it opens up a number of additional internships and makes students eligible for more financial support and stipends. There will be more employment opportunities.

Dr. Glenn Caddy, Director of the PhD. program, said, "I'm really pleased and gratified that the development of programs over the last several years have finally resulted in the national professional recognition that I believe the program deserves. The students are very, very happy that their program now has received the national recognition that it justly deserves."

Caddy reiterated Flynn when he stressed, "Now there is an added responsibility to maintain the quality of education for clinical doctoral students that we have developed."

A final note was added by President Fischer, who was the first Director of the Behavioral Sciences Center. "I would like to congratulate the Faculty and Dr. Flynn for meeting the standards for the APA accreditation," he said.

Dr. John Flynn, Director of the Behavioral Sciences Center, has announced that the PhD. in Clinical Psychology, begun at Nova in 1972, has officially received accreditation from the American Psychological Association.

The clinical psychology program leading to the Doctor of Philosophy degree is behavioral in orientation and adheres firmly to the principle that psychology is an empirically based discipline. The program is research oriented and primarily oriented toward training scientists and academicians. Accreditation by the American Psychological Association is the recognition of excellence in a psychology program. "The faculty of the PhD. program have been in the process of working toward APA approval for a number of years," says Dr. Flynn. "Getting it is the result of a long, well-planned process. We have felt that we were making very strong progress for a number of years and this outcome is very gratifying," he added.

Moreover, Flynn is quick to add, "The process must still continue. We still have to work to improve the program... it needs our continued support."

Particular needs included the library and improved on-campus clinic training facilities. Outstanding faculty must be maintained.

Dr. Flynn points out that immediate benefits to PhD. students as a result of APA approval are that it opens up a number of additional internships and makes students eligible for more financial support and stipends. There will be more employment opportunities.

Dr. Glenn Caddy, Director of the PhD. program, said, "I'm really pleased and gratified that the development of programs over the last several years have finally resulted in the national professional recognition that I believe the program deserves. The students are very, very happy that their program now has received the national recognition that it justly deserves."

Caddy reiterated Flynn when he stressed, "Now there is an added responsibility to maintain the quality of education for clinical doctoral students that we have developed."

A final note was added by President Fischer, who was the first Director of the Behavioral Sciences Center. "I would like to congratulate the Faculty and Dr. Flynn for meeting the standards for the APA accreditation," he said.

Dr. John Flynn, Director of the Behavioral Sciences Center, has announced that the PhD. in Clinical Psychology, begun at Nova in 1972, has officially received accreditation from the American Psychological Association.

The clinical psychology program leading to the Doctor of Philosophy degree is behavioral in orientation and adheres firmly to the principle that psychology is an empirically based discipline. The program is research oriented and primarily oriented toward training scientists and academicians. Accreditation by the American Psychological Association is the recognition of excellence in a psychology program. "The faculty of the PhD. program have been in the process of working toward APA approval for a number of years," says Dr. Flynn. "Getting it is the result of a long, well-planned process. We have felt that we were making very strong progress for a number of years and this outcome is very gratifying," he added.

Moreover, Flynn is quick to add, "The process must still continue. We still have to work to improve the program... it needs our continued support."

Particular needs included the library and improved on-campus clinic training facilities. Outstanding faculty must be maintained.

Dr. Flynn points out that immediate benefits to PhD. students as a result of APA approval are that it opens up a number of additional internships and makes students eligible for more financial support and stipends. There will be more employment opportunities.

Dr. Glenn Caddy, Director of the PhD. program, said, "I'm really pleased and gratified that the development of programs over the last several years have finally resulted in the national professional recognition that I believe the program deserves. The students are very, very happy that their program now has received the national recognition that it justly deserves."

Caddy reiterated Flynn when he stressed, "Now there is an added responsibility to maintain the quality of education for clinical doctoral students that we have developed."

A final note was added by President Fischer, who was the first Director of the Behavioral Sciences Center. "I would like to congratulate the Faculty and Dr. Flynn for meeting the standards for the APA accreditation," he said.
augment the support services to students already provided by the program staff.

Dr. John H. Dale, Jr., a member of the Center for the Study of Administration's advisory board and Nova University faculty, has been appointed as Chief of Planning, Research and Statistics for the Florida State Department of Correctional Institutions. He is presently an adjunct instructor in C.S.A.'s, corrections Masters Program.

An excerpt from Dr. Anna Mae Burke's book What Do You Want To Be When You're All Grown Up? appeared in the May issue of New Woman. Career development was the subject of a talk she gave at the Fort Lauderdale Library. In late June, she presented her paper "Creative Sabbaticals for Faculty Development" at the American Association for Engineering Education meeting in Houston.

All Bolton, a manager from AT&T and a Nova University Doctoral student recently participated in the evaluation of MBA presentations at the University of Maryland.

Dr. Philip DeTurk, Director of Nova College for Career Development conducted a retreat for staff members of the College, Director of Student Services Robert Meinhold, and Kathy Reilly, Professional Recruiter for Gould Electronics and a marketing student at Nova. The subject was "Marketing and Strategy Planning".

David Millman, Director of Program Development, Nova College for Career Development, coordinated the "In-Service" Training Seminar for the City of Pompano Beach Department Heads, Supervisors and Project Managers on "Retention of Quality Personnel" - Programs, Strategies and Benefits. The seminar was held under the auspices of Edward Bellamy, II, EEO officer for Pompano Beach, Master's degree graduate from Nova's CAE program.

Wayne E. Williams, Director of the Institute for survival Technology at the Oceanic Center, has been appointed to the Rules of the Road Advisory Council by Drew Lewis, U.S. Secretary of Transportation.

Dr. A. Lee Fritschler, preceptor in the DPA program, has been appointed the Director of the Advanced Study Program at Brown's Institute, where Nova updates its alumni.

Dr. Diane Marcus, as a recent graduate of the DPA program in Early Childhood Education, attended the California Association for Children's Programs annual conference where she hosted an exhibit booth. She also represented Nova at the Annual Association for the Study of Child Development in Anaheim.

Northern California Cluster Coordinator Dan Safayan and one of his students, Myrtle Sherman, accompanied her, Marcia Skopp, a student in the program, and Lois Kim, a recent graduate, attended ACEI (Association for Childhood Education International) in Atlanta. They shared the responsibilities of an exhibit booth of Corrections in Tallahassee. He is presently an adjunct instructor in C.S.A.'s, corrections Masters Program.

An excerpt from Dr. Anna Mae Burke's book What Do You Want To Be When You're All Grown Up? appeared in the May issue of New Woman. Career development was the subject of a talk she gave at the Fort Lauderdale Library. In late June, she presented her paper "Creative Sabbaticals for Faculty Development" at the American Association for Engineering Education meeting in Houston.

Dr. Paul's book, Punctuation for Everybody, also were presented at a seminar in Nashville for the American Library Association for Career Development, Nova College for Career Development, conducted a retreat for staff members of the College, Director of Student Services Robert Meinhold, and Kathy Reilly, Professional Recruiter for Gould Electronics and a marketing student at Nova. The subject was "Marketing and Strategy Planning".

David Millman, Director of Program Development, Nova College for Career Development, coordinated the "In-Service" Training Seminar for the City of Pompano Beach Department Heads, Supervisors and Project Managers on "Retention of Quality Personnel" - Programs, Strategies and Benefits. The seminar was held under the auspices of Edward Bellamy, II, EEO officer for Pompano Beach, Master's degree graduate from Nova's CAE program.

Wayne E. Williams, Director of the Institute for survival Technology at the Oceanic Center, has been appointed to the Rules of the Road Advisory Council by Drew Lewis, U.S. Secretary of Transportation.

Dr. A. Lee Fritschler, preceptor in the DPA program, has been appointed the Director of the Advanced Study Program at Brown's Institute, where Nova updates its alumni.

Dr. Diane Marcus, as a recent graduate of the DPA program in Early Childhood Education, attended the California Association for Children's Programs annual conference where she hosted an exhibit booth. She also represented Nova at the Annual Association for the Study of Child Development in Anaheim.
4

Counselor Schone addresses Dinner Dance participants

On July 17, 1982, the Nova University-Alumni Association held its International Dinner-Dance at the Hillcrest Golf and Country Club in Hollywood. The dance was open to all 1982 University degree candidates, graduates, students, program directors, faculty, staff, and friends of Nova. Seven door prizes were given to lucky ticket holders. Dr. Donald Stainer of Plantation won a record album; his wife, Carole, won a weekend at the Diplomat. Catherine Antonicci of Ronkonkoma, New York, can select a book worth $10.00. Robert Gray, of Manahawkin, New Jersey, was awarded a Sea Escape vacation. Marie McNulty will enjoy a day of golf. And, Milla Strasburg of Chicago, the winner of two dinners, will eat well at Houlihan’s and at Giardinos.

President and Mrs. Fischler enjoy dance at Hillcrest Country Club

EdD graduates and friends celebrate

On the National Level

Nova’s MPA Program is Nationally Ranked

The Masters Program in Public Administration at Nova University earned national status in a recent article in Public Administration Review (November/December, 1981). The principle representatives of the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration (NASPAA) and of the American Society for Public Administration (ASPA) were asked to list the ten best MPA programs in the United States. For a more complete rating system, the poll distinguished between the opinions of the academics, or the members of the NASPAA and a random sampling of the members of the ASPA, and those of the practitioners, which comprised the other sector of the ASPA.

Faculty and staff enjoy festivities

Public Policy Seminar Announced

The Center for the Study of Administration has announced its plans to hold its second Public Policy Seminar under the auspices of the Brookings Institution, Washington, D.C. The program will provide participants an opportunity to meet and dialogue with key officials of the administration, the Congress, the federal Reserve and executive departments and regulatory authorities. The second conference is limited to 30 on a first come first serve basis. Dr. John M. Clarke, Director of the Center for the Study of Administration will focus the seminar under joint sponsorship of the Center and Alumni Affairs Office. President Fischler will attend as he did last year and has encouraged our graduates and doctoral students to plan to attend this outstanding national coverage at a time after elections will have been held and reports on Social Security reform, budgets, etc. will have been filled.

This year a limited number of persons from the Institute of Retired Persons of Nova are also being invited to attend.

DPA graduates and families from New York attend Dinner Dance

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Alumni Association

Nova Grad Becomes BCC Provost

Ann M. Otto, EdD., 1980, has been chosen Provost of Broward Community College’s South Campus. Dr. Clinton Hamilton, Executive Vice President of Broward Community College, with the announcement made on Tuesday, June 1. Dr. Otto was selected from over 200 applicants. Dr. Otto has been employed at

Florida Keys Community College for eleven years. She began her distinguished tenure there as a Speech and English Instructor in August, 1971. In 1973, she was appointed Director of Student Services and became Dean of Student Services in April, 1979, the position she has held until the present.

She is a member of numerous professional and civic organizations, including Phi Beta Kappa, the Florida Association of Community Colleges, Florida’s Council of Student Affairs, the American Council on Education’s National Identification Program for Women in Higher Education, the American Personnel and Guidance Association, the Key West Woman’s Club, Key West Panhellenic Association, and Keys College Women’s Club.

Dr. Otto will assume responsibilities for the South Campus of Broward Community College with a headcount of approximately 3000 students, on August 2, 1982.

Dr. Otto has the distinction of receiving Nova’s Practitioners’ Hall of Fame Award in August, 1980.

Of the schools which qualified to be in the top fifty, Nova University was number 39, as voted by the practitioner sector of the ASPA. Because Nova is a relatively new school, it is at a disadvantage among the academicians of both the NASPAA and the ASPA. The NASPAA, according to an article by David R. Morgan and Kenneth J. Meier, both of the University of Oklahoma, tends to favor those schools which are active in NASPAA affairs because the members are more familiar with those programs. The academic sector of the ASPA also favors those programs with which they are familiar. Despite its relative newness, Nova was still distinguished by the practitioners as offering one of the best MPA programs in the country.

On the National Level

Nova’s MPA Program is Nationally Ranked

The Masters Program in Public Administration at Nova University earned national status in a recent article in Public Administration Review (November/December, 1981). The principle representatives of the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration (NASPAA) and of the American Society for Public Administration (ASPA) were asked to list the ten best MPA programs in the United States. For a more complete rating system, the poll distinguished between the opinions of the academics, or the members of the NASPAA and a random sampling of the members of the ASPA, and those of the practitioners, which comprised the other sector of the ASPA.

Nova Grad Becomes BCC Provost

Ann M. Otto, Ed.D., 1980, has been chosen Provost of Broward Community College’s South Campus. Dr. Clinton Hamilton, Executive Vice President of Broward Community College, with the announcement made on Tuesday, June 1. Dr. Otto was selected from over 200 applicants. Dr. Otto has been employed at

Florida Keys Community College for eleven years. She began her distinguished tenure there as a Speech and English Instructor in August, 1971. In 1973, she was appointed Director of Student Services and became Dean of Student Services in April, 1979, the position she has held until the present.

She is a member of numerous professional and civic organizations, including Phi Beta Kappa, the Florida Association of Community Colleges, Florida’s Council of Student Affairs, the American Council on Education’s National Identification Program for Women in Higher Education, the American Personnel and Guidance Association, the Key West Woman’s Club, Key West Panhellenic Association, and Keys College Women’s Club.

Dr. Otto will assume responsibilities for the South Campus of Broward Community College with a headcount of approximately 3000 students, on August 2, 1982.

Dr. Otto has the distinction of receiving Nova’s Practitioners’ Hall of Fame Award in August, 1980.

Of the schools which qualified to be in the top fifty, Nova University was number 39, as voted by the practitioner sector of the ASPA. Because Nova is a relatively new school, it is at a disadvantage among the academicians of both the NASPAA and the ASPA. The NASPAA, according to an article by David R. Morgan and Kenneth J. Meier, both of the University of Oklahoma, tends to favor those schools which are active in NASPAA affairs because the members are more familiar with those programs. The academic sector of the ASPA also favors those programs with which they are familiar. Despite its relative newness, Nova was still distinguished by the practitioners as offering one of the best MPA programs in the country.
On International News

On the State Level

William J. McCormick, Ed.D., '79, of the State Department of Public Instruction has become president-elect of the National Council of State Consultants in Elementary Education.

The Council, founded in 1938, claims 30 members from state education agencies. It meets annually to report on advances in curriculum development, teacher training, and other state-level services to school districts.

Dr. McCormick, a resident of Huntsley Circle, Dover, joined DNPI in 1969 as state supervisor of elementary social studies and is now state supervisor of elementary education. He coordinates the state's monitoring of elementary and secondary schools and works with local school officials to improve management and instruction.

He taught in Unionville and Devon, Pa., and in the former Alfred I. du Pont School District, north of Wilmington.

Dr. McCormick will become president of the Council in March, 1983.

Nova Education Student Receives Fulbright

Carole Robledo, a 1982 graduate with a Master's in Elementary Education, received a Fulbright Scholarship to participate in the Fulbright Teacher Exchange Program. This program is offered under the auspices of the Department of Education in Washington, D.C. and is open to teachers of all levels, elementary through university, who wish to apply. Only 140 teachers from the United States, most of whom taught on the secondary or college level, were selected this year.

On August 12, Ms. Robledo, accompanied by her eleven year old son, left for Edinburgh. Similarly, a Scottish woman is currently filling her post at Fulford Elementary School in North Miami Beach. Each will have the experience of teaching kindergartens in a foreign country.

In preparation, Ms. Robledo attended a seminar in Atlanta, after an interview in Miami and her acceptance. In August, she flew to Washington, D.C., where she met her exchange substitute. And, from there, she left for Scotland.

__Region I__

Dawne Naleel, M.S.A., '78, is the Callahan-Florida Intermediate School's candidate for "Teacher of the Year", as nominated by its faculty. A fifth grade teacher, she is also currently a member of the 1981-1982 Nassau Teachers Association (NTA) Bargaining Team.

Loi Tyler, B.S., '82, after working for the Fort Lauderdale News and sun Sentinel for ten years, has become estate account executive. Ms. Tyler is also continuing her education at night by pursuing a masters degree in human resource management.

Ken Knight, MAP 1977, a partner in Interval International was featured in the May 1982 issue of Florida Trend, a St. Petersburg publication. The article tells of the success of his time-sharing exchange company. An extensive article about Knight appeared in the Nova News June/July issue.

Alan T. Penn, (DPA '77) has been appointed as Administrator, Lake Hospital of the Palm Beaches, Lake Worth, Fla., and elected President, Florida Association of Private Psychiatric Hospitals.

__Region II__

W. Fred Wegener, DPA '81, has been promoted from associate professor to professor of criminal justice at Indiana University of Pennsylvania. IUP is the only state owned university in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Wegener was a patrol supervisor in the Adams County (Colorado) Sheriff's Department, an agent with the Colorado Department of Adult Parole, and director of the Toledo Criminal Justice Training and Education Center. He has been a faculty member at IUP since 1969. In addition to his regular teaching duties, Wegener has served as departmental chairperson, director of Continuing Education, and director of the IUP Crime Study Center. Wegener has also served on numerous university-level committees and has been an active member of the University Senate. He is a member of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences, the International Association of Chiefs of Police, and the American Society of Public Administration. He has served as a governmental consultant and has contributed chapters to three major textbooks dealing with the administration of criminal justice.

Dr. Wegener is presently serving as an educational consultant to Nova University's Center for the Study of Administration.

James P. Diksin, D.S. '80, is a lead instructor at the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center Firearms Specialties Branch in Georgia. An extensive article in The Police Chief, Feb. 1982, features the FLETC.

__Region III__

Joan A. Moyer, Ed.D., '81, formerly an assistant administrator in the Clementon Public Schools in New Jersey, was recently appointed by the Clementon Board of Education as the new Administrative Principal, effective July 1. Ms. Moyer became an administrator in 1977, following ten years of teaching in the Stratford School System.

Dino Claburri, Ed.D., '75, President of the Mildin Institute of North Haven, Connecticut, conducted sessions for seventh and eighth graders on career planning. The aim was to alert junior high school students to the many opportunities open to them, other than traditional roles. Some careers discussed in the seminars were machine packaging, solar energy-related jobs, and dance.

__Region IV__

Grant Shumway, DPA, '81, has been appointed Chief Executive Officer of St. Paul's Retirement Community in South Bend, Indiana. Previously, Dr. Shumway served as Program Administrator-Prevention Services for the Virginia Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation. He has also been an adjunct faculty member at the J. Sargent Reynolds Community College, Richmond, Virginia and at the University of Virginia in Charlo-tottesville.

__Region V__

Barbara Petrosino, Ed.D., '80, Associate Professor of Nursing at the University of Texas at El Paso, has received a grant from the Arthur Vining Davis Foundations for the "Development of a Communications Network Among Hospice Nurses in the United States to Improve the Care of Terminally Ill Persons." The purpose of the project will be to publish and distribute a Hospice Nursing Newsletter focusing on improving the nursing care of Hospice patients through the exchange of information and organized nursing research.

__Region VI__

Byron Mauzy, Ed.D., '76, has been elected Marin County Superintendent of Schools.

E. Tom Giunigi, Ed.D., '75 is Superintendent of schools, Sacramento City Unified School District.

Wendall Kuykendall, Ed.D., '75, is now Assistant Superintendent for business services, Solano County Office of Education.
New Ed.D. Cluster

The Ed.D. Program in Early Childhood Education has added a new group to its cluster membership. This Los Angeles based group celebrated its opening on April 24, 1982.

The eighteen members who comprise Cluster 12 have had a wide range of work experiences in the field of early childhood. The students bring such varied professional background to the program as: child care director; speech and language therapists; college professor; student teaching coordinator; primary resource person; parent education consultant; reading and language specialist; primary math coordinator; counselor to adolescent mothers and primary teachers.

The county manager of Metropolitan Dade County, M.R. Teshome, and president of the Greater Miami Chamber of Commerce, Walter Revell, issued invitations to all Dade County employers to become involved in this corporate-community partnership, the first conference of its kind in Florida.

Office Change for Center for the Study of Administration

The Center for the Study of Administration announced that they have moved from the Mailman-Hollywood building to the Parker Building, third floor.

Offices are open from 8:30 am-5 pm Monday through Friday with other hours by appointment. All phone numbers remain the same, as well as the mailing address.

The Center for the Study of Administration includes the Doctor of Public Administration, the Doctor of Business Administration, the Master of Business Administration, the Master of Public Administration, the Master of Science in Human Resources Management, the Master of Science in Criminal Justice and the Institute for International Development Programs.

Institute News Coming

The 1983 Summer Institute for the Ed.D. Early Childhood Program will be held on the Georgetown University campus in Washington, D.C. from August 1 through August 6. "The Capitol, the Children, the Challenges" focused on national issues which impact upon children and the controversies early childhood educators are and will be facing. Not only did attendees take a hard, close look at the current political scene, but they developed the skills necessary to influence decisions that affect young children.

Special guest speakers were, Albert Alford, Special Assistant to the Secretary, Dept. of Education, United States; Jules Sugarman, Executive Director, Day Care Counsel of America; Barbara Simmons, Board of Education, Member at Large, District of Columbia Schools.

Details of this institute will be coming in the October-November issue of Nova News.

American Express
Card Division
P.O. Box 3337
Fort Lauderdale, Florida 33337

YOU'RE A NEIGHBOR WORKING TO SERVE PEOPLE

The Faculties of the CAE and the Ed Leaders Program are very pleased to make available these reports to the educational community-at-large.

As is true of any service business, we depend on our people. We are proud of the record our people have established in serving American Express customers around the world.

Our success has created new job opportunities for our neighbors, new business for local suppliers, and new economic vitality for our community.

Broward County offers a rich and varied life style. Our Southern Region Operations Center was designed to complement the natural beauty of the area and offer our people a pleasant place to work.
Nova Student Sets Her Goals High...

By Catherine Magliola

Izha Mohd Hashim, although a native of Malaysia, has spent the past three years in Davie, Florida, studying at Nova College and Nova University's graduate school. Who am from Massachusetts, am more of a foreigner than she. After our first meeting, she kindly offered me help. "If you ever need transport anywhere, just call me later all, I know how you feel, being all the way from Massachusetts," I remarked to her. Izha, who is a mere two and a half hour plane ride away while Malaysia is over halfway around the world. Still, she certainly spoke of the fluency of a native.

The Japan America Institute of Management Science (JAIMS) recently accepted Izha into its program which enables business people and students from all over the world -- France, Britain, Norway, Switzerland -- to spend four months in Hawaii and five in Japan. They first complete an intensive course in Japanese language and culture, and then commence the study of business. A full tuition scholarship was awarded to Izha from Massachusetts, am more of a foreigner than she. After our first meeting, she kindly offered me help. "If you ever need transport anywhere, just call me later all, I know how you feel, being all the way from Massachusetts," I remarked to her. Izha, who is a mere two and a half hour plane ride away while Malaysia is over halfway around the world. Still, she certainly spoke of the fluency of a native.

The latest figures from the American Association of Fund-Raising Counsel, Inc. indicates that, of the $47.74 billion given to charitable causes in calendar year 1980, $42.79 billion came from Massachusetts.

The Development Officer as Partner in Estate Planning

James W. Colbert, Sr., Director of Development

The Development Officer brings to the Planning Partnership knowledge of the variety of flexibility of philanthropic vehicles and instruments. Without invading the area of law or finances, the Development Officer can offer ideas and concepts which may otherwise be overlooked.

Douglas K. Freeman of the Los Angeles law firm of Freeman, Freeman and Smiley says: "...active charitable planning in connection with broader estate planning is the exception rather than the rule. A professional survey...of attorneys extensively engaged in estate planning revealed that less than 5% had prepared more than a handful of charitable remainder trusts, charitable income trusts, conservation easements, charitable stock bailouls or outright donations."

Izha Mohd Hashim, although a native of Malaysia, has spent the past three years in Davie, Florida, studying at Nova College and Nova University's graduate school. Who am from Massachusetts, am more of a foreigner than she. After our first meeting, she kindly offered me help. "If you ever need transport anywhere, just call me later all, I know how you feel, being all the way from Massachusetts," I remarked to her. Izha, who is a mere two and a half hour plane ride away while Malaysia is over halfway around the world. Still, she certainly spoke of the fluency of a native.

The latest figures from the American Association of Fund-Raising Counsel, Inc. indicates that, of the $47.74 billion given to charitable causes in calendar year 1980, $42.79 billion came from Massachusetts.

The Development Officer as Partner in Estate Planning

James W. Colbert, Sr., Director of Development

The Development Officer brings to the Planning Partnership knowledge of the variety of flexibility of philanthropic vehicles and instruments. Without invading the area of law or finances, the Development Officer can offer ideas and concepts which may otherwise be overlooked.

Douglas K. Freeman of the Los Angeles law firm of Freeman, Freeman and Smiley says: "...active charitable planning in connection with broader estate planning is the exception rather than the rule. A professional survey...of attorneys extensively engaged in estate planning revealed that less than 5% had prepared more than a handful of charitable remainder trusts, charitable income trusts, conservation easements, charitable stock bailouls or outright donations."

Izha Mohd Hashim, although a native of Malaysia, has spent the past three years in Davie, Florida, studying at Nova College and Nova University's graduate school. Who am from Massachusetts, am more of a foreigner than she. After our first meeting, she kindly offered me help. "If you ever need transport anywhere, just call me later all, I know how you feel, being all the way from Massachusetts," I remarked to her. Izha, who is a mere two and a half hour plane ride away while Malaysia is over halfway around the world. Still, she certainly spoke of the fluency of a native.

The latest figures from the American Association of Fund-Raising Counsel, Inc. indicates that, of the $47.74 billion given to charitable causes in calendar year 1980, $42.79 billion came from Massachusetts.

The Development Officer as Partner in Estate Planning

James W. Colbert, Sr., Director of Development

The Development Officer brings to the Planning Partnership knowledge of the variety of flexibility of philanthropic vehicles and instruments. Without invading the area of law or finances, the Development Officer can offer ideas and concepts which may otherwise be overlooked.

Douglas K. Freeman of the Los Angeles law firm of Freeman, Freeman and Smiley says: "...active charitable planning in connection with broader estate planning is the exception rather than the rule. A professional survey...of attorneys extensively engaged in estate planning revealed that less than 5% had prepared more than a handful of charitable remainder trusts, charitable income trusts, conservation easements, charitable stock bailouls or outright donations."

Izha Mohd Hashim, although a native of Malaysia, has spent the past three years in Davie, Florida, studying at Nova College and Nova University's graduate school. Who am from Massachusetts, am more of a foreigner than she. After our first meeting, she kindly offered me help. "If you ever need transport anywhere, just call me later all, I know how you feel, being all the way from Massachusetts," I remarked to her. Izha, who is a mere two and a half hour plane ride away while Malaysia is over halfway around the world. Still, she certainly spoke of the fluency of a native.

The latest figures from the American Association of Fund-Raising Counsel, Inc. indicates that, of the $47.74 billion given to charitable causes in calendar year 1980, $42.79 billion came from Massachusetts.

The Development Officer as Partner in Estate Planning

James W. Colbert, Sr., Director of Development

The Development Officer brings to the Planning Partnership knowledge of the variety of flexibility of philanthropic vehicles and instruments. Without invading the area of law or finances, the Development Officer can offer ideas and concepts which may otherwise be overlooked.

Douglas K. Freeman of the Los Angeles law firm of Freeman, Freeman and Smiley says: "...active charitable planning in connection with broader estate planning is the exception rather than the rule. A professional survey...of attorneys extensively engaged in estate planning revealed that less than 5% had prepared more than a handful of charitable remainder trusts, charitable income trusts, conservation easements, charitable stock bailouls or outright donations."

Izha Mohd Hashim, although a native of Malaysia, has spent the past three years in Davie, Florida, studying at Nova College and Nova University's graduate school. Who am from Massachusetts, am more of a foreigner than she. After our first meeting, she kindly offered me help. "If you ever need transport anywhere, just call me later all, I know how you feel, being all the way from Massachusetts," I remarked to her. Izha, who is a mere two and a half hour plane ride away while Malaysia is over halfway around the world. Still, she certainly spoke of the fluency of a native.

The latest figures from the American Association of Fund-Raising Counsel, Inc. indicates that, of the $47.74 billion given to charitable causes in calendar year 1980, $42.79 billion came from Massachusetts.

The Development Officer as Partner in Estate Planning

James W. Colbert, Sr., Director of Development

The Development Officer brings to the Planning Partnership knowledge of the variety of flexibility of philanthropic vehicles and instruments. Without invading the area of law or finances, the Development Officer can offer ideas and concepts which may otherwise be overlooked.

Douglas K. Freeman of the Los Angeles law firm of Freeman, Freeman and Smiley says: "...active charitable planning in connection with broader estate planning is the exception rather than the rule. A professional survey...of attorneys extensively engaged in estate planning revealed that less than 5% had prepared more than a handful of charitable remainder trusts, charitable income trusts, conservation easements, charitable stock bailouls or outright donations."

Izha Mohd Hashim, although a native of Malaysia, has spent the past three years in Davie, Florida, studying at Nova College and Nova University's graduate school. Who am from Massachusetts, am more of a foreigner than she. After our first meeting, she kindly offered me help. "If you ever need transport anywhere, just call me later all, I know how you feel, being all the way from Massachusetts," I remarked to her. Izha, who is a mere two and a half hour plane ride away while Malaysia is over halfway around the world. Still, she certainly spoke of the fluency of a native.

The latest figures from the American Association of Fund-Raising Counsel, Inc. indicates that, of the $47.74 billion given to charitable causes in calendar year 1980, $42.79 billion came from Massachusetts.

The Development Officer as Partner in Estate Planning

James W. Colbert, Sr., Director of Development

The Development Officer brings to the Planning Partnership knowledge of the variety of flexibility of philanthropic vehicles and instruments. Without invading the area of law or finances, the Development Officer can offer ideas and concepts which may otherwise be overlooked.

Douglas K. Freeman of the Los Angeles law firm of Freeman, Freeman and Smiley says: "...active charitable planning in connection with broader estate planning is the exception rather than the rule. A professional survey...of attorneys extensively engaged in estate planning revealed that less than 5% had prepared more than a handful of charitable remainder trusts, charitable income trusts, conservation easements, charitable stock bailouls or outright donations."

Izha Mohd Hashim, although a native of Malaysia, has spent the past three years in Davie, Florida, studying at Nova College and Nova University's graduate school. Who am from Massachusetts, am more of a foreigner than she. After our first meeting, she kindly offered me help. "If you ever need transport anywhere, just call me later all, I know how you feel, being all the way from Massachusetts," I remarked to her. Izha, who is a mere two and a half hour plane ride away while Malaysia is over halfway around the world. Still, she certainly spoke of the fluency of a native.
close of the evening, a lovely hand painted plate, designed and made by Bertha Webb of Lake Placid, was given as a door prize and won by Ms. Barbara Rosenblatt of Temple Menorah, Miami Beach.

The well-attended session drew professionals from Palm Beach, Broward, Dade and Monroe Counties. Represented were public and private schools as well as local social agencies. Dr. Georgianna Lowen, who coordinated the presentation, said, "It was interesting that so many educators attended to find out specific ways they might keep their school programs operational. In spite of the Federal cuts made by Reaganomics, the idea of public school, in particular, applying for private funds seems to be a new development, perhaps a sign of the times."

Next week will be the occasion of the first of a continuing series of public presentations arranged by the various chapters in the Ellie Childs Foundation Program. The undertaking is off to a good start with those attending declaring they would "like more of the same."

Continued from page 2

The women of Gold Circle held their second tennis marathon every Wednesday during the month of May. Approximately 38 women played at various clubs in Broward and Dade Counties. They played on the courts of Emerald Hills Country Club, The Cricket Club, Turnberry Isle Country Club and The Diplomat Country Club.

Co-chairmen for the event were Anita Paoli and Maxine Silverblatt who did a splendid job putting this tennis tournament together with the help of their advisor Toni Paoli. Retired sportscaster, Joe Tucker, voice of the Pittsburgh Steelers for over 32 years kept score for the Gold Circle members.

The tournament ended with a luncheon, prizes and trophies. The Diplomat Country Club, President of Gold Circle, Millcent Steele announced the chairman for next year, Kathy Paolucci.

Continued from page 7

Continued from page 2

and upper business management. Evaluation, interviews with chief executives of industrial, public, and financial organizations, and recent surveys and articles have been weighted to assure the certificate offering is responsive to local needs.

Dr. Richard Biscomb and Dr. Syrous Kooros of the Center for the Study of Administration in Nova are directing the program with a focus to ensure that the enrolled managers and practicing executives are introduced to a rigorous exposure about the basic concepts and how-to aspects of directing the program with a focus on the heavy course load, resulting from taking evening courses at Nova and day and evening courses at BCC, enabled her to graduate early, July, 1981, summa cum laude.

Izha continued in graduate school at Nova's School of Management under the auspices of the Diplomatic Country Club, President of Gold Circle, Millcent Steele announced the chairman for next year, Kathy Paolucci.

Quantitative Methods, and majoring in business management with a specialty in marketing. Her heavy course load, resulting from taking evening courses at Nova and day and evening courses at BCC, enabled her to graduate early, July, 1981, summa cum laude.

Izha continued in graduate school at Nova's School of Management under the auspices of the Diplomatic Country Club, President of Gold Circle, Millcent Steele announced the chairman for next year, Kathy Paolucci.

Continued from page 7

Nova Student Sets...

credits earned there were transferred to Nova.

Upon her arrival in the United States in October, 1979, Izha enrolled in classes at Broward Community College and at Nova. Immediately, she began to study business, enrolling in courses such as Finance, Computer, and

Housing Needed

The international students who are studying in Nova's Intensive English Program would like the opportunity of living with American families in the Davie, Plantation, or Hollywood area. This would facilitate their learning about American life, and also provide an opportunity for them to improve their English. Room and board will be paid by the students. For more information, call 475-7430.