COLLEGE OF HEALTH CARE SCIENCES

Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) in Health Science

HEALTH PROFESSIONS DIVISION • Entering Class 2014

NOVA SOUTHEASTERN
UNIVERSITY

PH.D. IN HEALTH SCIENCE

The Ph.D. in Health Science is a postprofessional, distance-based research doctoral program designed for master's degree-prepared clinical health professionals, public health practitioners, and senior-level health care administrators. The focus of the Doctor of Philosophy in Health Science is to educate and graduate research practitioners with the skills and knowledge necessary to conduct research in a complex society and environment while they focus globally within the framework of health policy.

THE DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY (PH.D.) IN HEALTH SCIENCE IS DESIGNED TO

- provide a means of Ph.D. completion for working health care professionals currently at the master's degree level
- increase opportunities for health practitioners to earn terminal degrees in the field of health science with a core focus in research
- prepare graduates to function both independently and interdependently within the clinical and nonclinical research environment
- prepare graduates for advanced development of new knowledge in their fields of expertise

The Ph.D. in Health Science program challenges students to examine the current state of health care; apply sophisticated knowledge of research design, biostatistics, and epidemiology to the literature of their core disciplines; and initiate the design and follow-up mechanisms for research in health care. Its professor-driven, student-centered, online course delivery is coupled with a research practicum; three one-week, on-campus institutes; a comprehensive examination; and a dissertation with an oral defense.
